CHICAGO JURY IS TO DECIDE FATE SHORTLY

Jurymen Expected To Begin Deliberations Thursday Afternoon and Early Verdict Anticipated By Counsel.

(Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—Assistant Attorney General John W. H. Crim began the final argument for the prosecution in the veterans bureau conspiracy trial today. Following an hour of argument and the instructions of the court, the case will be presented to the jury soon after the opening of the afternoon session. A quick verdict is anticipated by counsel

Crim vigorously attacked the defense argument that Elias H. Mortimer, the chief prosecution witness, had been accepted as a man of high social standing in Washington because of his protested friendship with President Harding.

"The sins that the friends of Warren Harding visited upon him," he exclaimed "Oh! That they had stayed away from Washington. Oh, his untimely death; that he might be alive today to tell how he was duped by his friends."

Charles R. Forbes, former director of the United States veterans bureau, and J. W. Thompson, wealthy building contractor of Chicago and St. Louis, went to trial before Federal Judge George A. Carpenter November 24, last, charged with conspiracy to defraud the government.

The proceedings grew out of the charges of corruption, collusion and loose management in the veterans bureau under Forbes in 1921 and 1922, related before the senate investigating committee in 1923 by

FIND DEAD MAN IN RAILROAD CAR

Supposed to Have Been Asphyxiated By Gas From Hot Cinders.

GRAND ISLAND, Jan. 29.—Union Pacific freight car inspectors today found the dead body of a man in a car of cinders. There was not a thing on the clothing to identify him. He was about 40 years of age, 6 feet in height, and is believed to have been a Syrian or Spaniard.

Trainmen believed he boarded the train between North Platte and this city, and a man generally answering the description, was seen to loiter around the depot at Shelton as the train passed through.

It is believed that the cinders, being still warm and giving out a gas, the man went to sleep and was asphyxiated.

The remains are being held for possible further information.

Score Killed In Shanghai Clash

SHANGHAI, Jan. 29.—Twenty persons were killed and twenty injured here today in a thickly settled section of the Chinese district when a small contingent of victorious troops, representing Gen. Lung Hsiang and the central Chinese government, were resisted when they attempted to disarm 1,000 defeated Kiangsu troops of Chi Shieh-uan, deposed leader.

The spirited exchange of shots was ended by the appearance of reinforcements which compelled the Kiangsu troops to submit to disarmament. The panic that resulted when the shooting started resulted in the death or injury of a number of non-combatants.

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—(A.P.) Reports current here that the Canadian government might take a hand against unduly high prices for wheat did a good deal today to bring about a sharp setback in wheat values here.

The reports in question were emphasized by a sudden break of 10 cents a bushel in the market at Winnipeg.

In Chicago the excited buying which yesterday reached the unprecedented total of 111,827,000 bushels, was again strongly in evidence today, and declines in price here were held to only about 4 cents, despite the big fall at Winnipeg. THOUSANDS AT FUNERAL FOR GLENN YOUNG

Final Chapter Written In Life Story Of Ku Klux Klan Raider At Herrin—Inquiry Into Fatal Clash Continues.

HERRIN, Ill., Jan. 29.—The final chapter in the life story of S. Glenn Young, Ku Klux Klan dry raider, was written here today.

Thousands assembled to mourn at the last rites over the man whose body lay in state at the Baptist church where it has been since the shooting affray Saturday night which also cost the life of Deputy Sheriff Ora Thomas and two others. During the night two men, one at the head and one at the foot of the casket, stood guard.

Two illuminated crosses stood near the casket. No robed members of the Ku Klux Klan were to be in evidence. The funeral would be ordinary in everything except in size, officials said. Surrounded by a number of prominent Klansmen, chanting the solemn funeral rites of their order, the slain klan crusader would be buried, leaders said.

Meanwhile the inquest into the tragedy was due to end today with a verdict from the coroner's jury probable tonight.

No light has thus far been thrown on the death of Edward Forbes and Homer Warren. Several witnesses asserted they thought Warren was shot from above, but scarcely a word indicated how Forbes came to his death. It was thought he was struck by a stray bullet.

DR. BLANCHARD HEARS LAST CALL

D. R. H. Blanchard, aged 76 years, died at his home, 2804 T street at 7:30 a. m. Thursday. He leaves a wife, two sons, L. R. Blanchard of Syracuse, N. Y., former Lincoln newspaperman and J. B. Funeral services are to be conducted by the Grand Army of the Republic of which he was member. Pending the funeral the body is being held at Hoyt's funeral home.

Members of the G. A. R. were greatly grieved by the loss of Mr. Blanchard. As the leader of the Farragut post glee club he was known throughout the state and at [illegible] encampment. When he came to Lincoln several years ago, he transferred his membership from post 227 at Chadron to Farragut. He had for many years been commander at Chadron.

WILSON HEAD OF HEALTH BUREAU

Appointment of Lincoln Man Announced By Governor McMullen.

The appointment of Dr. W. H. Wilson, Lincoln, as head of the bureau of health in the department of public welfare, was announced Thursday morning by Governor McMullen.

The governor said he was not ready as yet to make his appointment of the new members of the board of control. There are several applicants for the position. Present Chairman Allyn has been mentioned to succeed himself. There has been some dispute as to his eligibility, owing to the fact that he has established his home in Lincoln rather than Hastings. There is already a member from the Lincoln district and the law prohibits two.

Governor McMullen said this morning that this would not be a serious objection in his mind since the law said "resident" rather than elector, and Mr. Allyn could establish his residence at Hastings within a day or so.

To Take Pick of Gasoline Bills

No action will be taken by the revenue and taxation committee of the house, relative to the proposed gasoline tax, until after the 20th day of the session, Chairman Harrington announced Thursday. The committee will wait until all bills are in and then take its pick. Six measures are now in its hands, and there may be others.

When the time limit has expired for introduction of bills, said Mr. Harrington, the committee will amend some measure to embody its ideas and place it before the house for action within a short time.

Clearing County Roads of Snow

The 21 county snow crews with maintainers and graders began work at 7 o'clock Thursday morning removing the heavy snow that fell generally throughout the county. The McMaster bill forbidding any outside justice of the peace in Lancaster county to set up court in Lincoln and try cases here, so as to enable attorneys or litigants to avoid the jurisdiction of the new municipal court, is now on general file in the house and will soon be taken up for consideration. It was favorably reported Thursday by the judiciary committee.

ASK MILLION TO ESTABLISH STATE BANK

"Bank of Nebraska" Provided by Bill Introduced in House by Progressives; Formerly Sponsored by Non-Partisan League.

TO BE DEPOSITORY FOR STATE MONEYS

To Carry 5 Per Cent Cash Reserve and Make Loans at 4 Per Cent; No Loans Over $50,000 Except With Unanimous Approval of Directors.

An appropriation of one million dollars to establish and operate a state-owned bank, in which the state and its governmental subdivisions would be required to deposit their funds, is proposed in a bill introduced Thursday by Representative Axtell and Waite, the two third party progressive members.

The idea is one formerly sponsored by the nonpartisan league. North Dakota has a state-owned bank established during the Townley regime there five or six years ago. This bill was prepared by Roy M. Harrop of Omaha.

The "Bank of Nebraska" as it is to be called, would carry a 5 per cent cash reserve and make loans at 4 per cent to individuals, corporations, counties, townships and municipalities. The limit of any one loan is fixed at $50,000, unless by unanimous action of the directors, when $100,000 could be loaned.

Six directors, appointed one from each congressional district—two republicans, two democrats and two progressives—are to be named by the secretary of state, auditor and land commissioner, each to serve four years. They will have full control of the bank's affairs. Each is to give bond for $10,000, and will receive a salary of $5,000 a year.

Checks and other paper sent by the state bank to other banks in the state, for collection, must be remitted for at par, on penalty of forfeiture of charter.

Receivers, trustees, administrators, executors, and others holding money in trust must deposit it in the state owned bank. State banks are required to make their redeposits in the Bank of Nebraska.

In order to get the new institution in operation, as soon as possible, an emergency clause is attached to the bill.

SENATOR NORRIS ISSUES WARNING

Plans "Filibuster" If Power Industry Inquiry Resolution Smothered.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. — The senate today extended to February 5 the time within which the interstate commerce committee must act on the resolution of Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, requiring the federal trade commission to investigate the power industry.

The extension, the second authorized since the resolution went to committee, was agreed to after Chairman Smith had declared further time should be needed to obtain complete information on power inquiries already undertaken by other government departments.

Assistant Attorney General Seymour, in charge of trust investigations at the department of justice, was again before the committee in executive session today to describe the inquiry being developed by that department into certain phases of the electric industry.

Senator Norris announced on the floor of the senate today that he would demand a record vote on the resolution regardless of the committee's decision.

"I am not going to see the resolution smothered," he said, "unless I smother something else also. Two can play this game."

He added that while he would not care to be placed in the attitude of filibustering, he would stop other legislation unless the resolution got "fair treatment."

Says Taxes Are Reduced Under His Budget Plan

"The people of the state apparently do not thoroughly understand my budget nor appreciate the fact that they are really receiving a reduction in taxes, in spite of the proposed levy on gasoline," Governor McMullen said Thursday morning, in commenting upon a number of letters he has received the last few days.

"Property taxes will be reduced by a total sum of $1,500,000 each year for the next two years under the budget plan."

This is the result of the cutting off of the levy which has been made in the last few years for road improvement work, he explained.

Under Governor McMullen's plan this money will be raised through the gasoline tax and the result will be that that money will not go in to determine the amount of property tax levies.

A further reduction is to be made in auto license fees if the legislature sees fit. It is estimated that the returns from the gasoline tax will be more than the federal aid and will at the same time provide the department of public works with an additional million dollars to be used for work in the counties. It is estimated that there will be an income of approximately four million dollars from the gasoline tax, figuring at the present automobile census, Governor McMullen said.

ASK TEACHERS' PENSION FUND

Instructors In Smaller Cities Would Have Chance at $500 Yearly Allowance After 40 Years Service, by Provisions of House Bill.

Pensions for school teachers in districts containing cities of 5,000 to 25,000 population are provided for in a bill which Representatives Lee (Adams) and Wilson threw into the house hopper Thursday morning. Establishment of the system is to be optional with the board of education in each city district.

The pension fund will be created by assessing teachers from 1 to 1 1-2 per cent of their monthly salaries, and by setting aside from the general fund of the district an amount 50 per cent more than the contributions from the teachers, or whatever additional sum may be necessary to meet the requirements.

Any teacher who does not desire to come under the pension system may be exempted from it, and from the salary assessments, by filing written notice with the board.

Superintendents Eligible.

Superintendents, principals, supervisors, and assistants are classed with teachers and made eligible to receive pensions.

Any teacher may retire on a pension after 40 years' service, while the board of education may allow retirement after 35 years experience, but in either case the teacher must have been employed by the district for 20 years. The pension allowance is $500 a year for life.

Partial benefits are made available for those who become incapacitated in the service, with a minimum of 25 years' total service and 20 years in the district.

Representative Lee declined to sponsor a state wide educators' pension bill which was given him by Secretary C. W. Hosman of the state teachers' association. It is expected that this will be introduced by some other member or members, however.

Wants Ban On Train Whistles In City Limits

Screeching train whistles would no longer interrupt the midnight slumbers of Nebraska's legislators coming to Lincoln from the small towns, if Senator Cooper's bill is passed. Neither would residents of cities where the whistles are deemed aggravating be bothered in the future.

Senator Cooper introduced S. F. 120 Thursday morning which would give cities of the first class, where the blowing of steam whistles is regulated by city ordinance the authority to deem the ringing of train bells or the blowing of air whistles sufficient for safety, and prohibit the blowing of train whistles within the city limits.

Although Senator Cooper has heard many complaints from legislators regarding the disturbing noises of trains entering Lincoln, he is also looking out for the citizens of his home city, Omaha.

Wants Ten Commandments To Be Displayed In All Schools

An artistic and conspicuous display of the ten commandments upon the wall of every school room would be required under a bill introduced in the senate today by Senator Johnson. The placards would not bear advertising matter other than the imprint of the person preparing it, according to the bill, and if no donation is made the cost would be paid out of the funds of such public or private institution.

Salary boosts for the chief deputy sheriff of Douglas county, one bookkeeper, one jailer and other deputies of that county, are provided for in a bill introduced by Senator John C. Cooper.

Senator Cooper's bill making alienation of the affections of a husband or wife a felony, punishable by a prison sentence or fine or both, was introduced today and will be read again and referred to the committee on judiciary, probably tomorrow.

Another bill by Senator Johnson provides that where an employe loses his position because his wage have been garnished, he is not liable for the judgment. This applies where the employe is head of a family.

The senate held short sessions this morning and this afternoon. It is probable that the upper house will adjourn from Friday until Monday.

RESTORATION TO 1920 LEVEL TURNED DOWN

Senate Later Votes To Exempt Publications Subject To First and Second Zone Rates From 1 Cent a Pound Increase Proposed.

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—A proposal to reduce second class mail rates to the 1920 level was rejected by the senate today as an amendment to the postal pay and rate increase bill.

Defeat of the amendment, offered by Senator George, democrat, Georgia, by a vote of 43 to 36, opened the way for action on the increase in these rates proposed in the bill.

A proposal to make the 1920 rates effective only to newspaper then was defeated also, 65 to 31, on motion of Senator McKellar, democrat, Tennessee

On motion of Senator Oddie, republican, Nevada, the senate then voted to exempt publications subject to first and second zone mail rates from the 1 cent a pound increase in rates proposed in the bill. As a result, the rate on second class mail sent in the first two zones is retained at 2 cents a pound.

ORDER PORTRAIT OF COOLIDGE OUT

(Special to The Star.)

PAWNEE CITY, Neb., Jan. 29.—The picture of President Coolidge, that hung on the wall of the G. A. R. room in the court house here was ordered removed by a four to one vote of the members at the last meeting of the veterans here this week.

Before making his motion, the father of the resolution called on the chair to read article X of the by-laws in which the subject of politics is deplored in meetings of the order. Only five of the old soldiers were at the meeting when the vote was taken.

The portrait of the president was presented by the W. R. C., which also uses the same room as a meeting place. Those who voted for the motion approved the expression of its author that the gift injected a breath of politics into the order. Nothing was said specifically about the president's veto of the pension bill as a possible motive for the action.

The women of the auxiliary are indignant over the removal of the picture, and their expressed intention to return it to the wall presages a lively meeting soon.

Membership of the G. A. R. post here is twenty-six, three of whom are non-resident members

DR. BLANCHARD HEARS LAST CALL

Dr. R. H. Blanchard, aged 76 years, died at his home, 2804 T street, at 7:30 a. m. Thursday. He leaves a wife, two sons, L. R. Blanchard of Syracuse, N. Y., former Lincoln newspaperman and J. B. Blanchard of Lincoln; two brothers, E. E. Blanchard of Brant Path, Ore., and O. R. Blanchard of Chadron, Neb.; a sister, Mrs. Ina Coe of Kent, Ohio. Funeral services are to be conducted by the Grand Army of the Republic of which he was a member. Pending the funeral the body is being held at Morey's funeral home.

Members of the G. A. R. were greatly grieved by the loss of Mr. Blanchard. As the leader of the Farragut post glee club, he was known throughout the state and at the state and national encampments. When he came to Lincoln several years ago, he transferred his membership from post 227 at Chadron to Farragut. He had for many years been commander at Chadron.

WILSON HEAD OF HEALTH BUREAU

Appointment of Lincoln Man Announced By Governor McMullen.

The appointment of Dr. W. H. Wilson, Lincoln, as head of the bureau of health in the department of public welfare, was announced Thursday morning by Governor McMullen.

The governor said he was not ready as yet to make his appointment of the new members of the board of control. There are several applicants for the position. Present Chairman Allyn has been mentioned to succeed himself. There has been some dispute as to his eligibility, owing to the fact that he has established his home in Lincoln rather than Hastings. There is already a member from the Lincoln district and the law prohibits two.

Governor McMullen said this morning that this would not be a serious objection in his mind since the law said "resident' rather than elector, and Mr. Allyn could establish his residence at Hastings within a day or so.

To Take Pick of Gasoline Bills

No action will be taken by the revenue and taxation committee of the house, relative to the proposed gasoline tax, until after the 20th day of the session, Chairman Harrington announced Thursday. The committee will wait until all bills are in and then take its pick. Six measures are now in its hands, and there may be others.

When the time limit has expired for introduction of bills, said Mr. Harrington, the committee will amend some measure to embody its ideas and place it before the house for action within a short time.

Clearing County Roads of Snow

The 21 county snow crews with maintainers and graders began work at 7 o'clock Thursday morning removing the heavy snow that fell generally throughout the county. The lack of any wind and consequent drifts expedited the road work, according to County Engineer Edgren, who said the roads would soon be cleared of all snow.

McMaster's Bill On General File

The McMaster bill forbidding any outside justice of the peace in Lancaster county to set up court in Lincoln and try cases here, so as to enable attorneys or litigants to avoid the jurisdiction of the new municipal court, is now on general file in the house and will soon be taken up for consideration. It was favorably reported Thursday by the judiciary committee.

Say Two Boys Admit Robbery

Rile Flinn, 19, and "Speed" Warren, 20, two youths living near Bartlett, Neb., were arrested Wednesday in connection with a number of small thefts in that vicinity, according to Walter Schroeder, state finger print expert.

Schroeder was called to Bartlett Wednesday to make an investigation, following the robbery of a Bartlett restaurant. Flinn and Warrenn were arrested and confessed to the robbery and a number of smallier thefts, officers said.

ASK MILLION TO ESTABLISH STATE BANK

"Bank of Nebraska" Provided by Bill Introduced in House by Progressives; Formerly Sponsored by Non-Partisan League.

TO BE DEPOSITORY FOR STATE MONEYS

To Carry 5 Per Cent Cash Reserve and Make Loans at 4 Per Cent; No Loans Over $50,000 Except With Unanimous Approval of Directors.

An appropriation of one million dollars to establish and operate a state-owned bank, in which the state and its governmental subdivisions would be required to deposit their funds, is proposed in a bill introduced Thursday by Representative Axtell and Waite, the two third party progressive members.

The idea is one formerly sponsored by the nonpartisan league. North Dakota has a state-owned bank established during the Townley regime there five or six years ago. This bill was prepared by Roy M. Harrop of Omaha.

The "Bank of Nebraska" as it is to be called, would carry a 5 per cent cash reserve and make loans at 4 per cent to individuals, corporations, counties, townships and municipalities. The limit of any one loan is fixed at $50,000, unless by unanimous action of the directors, when $100,000 could be loaned.

Six directors, appointed one from each congressional district—two republicans, two democrats and two progressives—are to be named by the secretary of state, auditor and land commissioner, each to serve four years. They will have full control of the bank's affairs. Each is to give bond for $10,000, and will receive a salary of $5,000 a year.

Checks and other paper sent by the state bank to other banks in the state, for collection, must be remitted for at par, on penalty of forfeiture of charter.

Receivers, trustees, administrators, executors, and others holding money in trust must deposit it in the state owned bank. State banks are required to make their redeposits in the Bank of Nebraska.

In order to get the new institution in operation as soon as possible, an emergency clause is attached to the bill.

SENATOR NORRIS ISSUES WARNING

Plans "Filibuster" If Power Industry Inquiry Resolution Smothered.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. — The senate today extended to February 5 the time within which the interstate commerce committee must act on the resolution of Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, requiring the federal trade commission to investigate the power industry.

The extension, the second authorized since the resolution went to committee, was agreed to after Chairman Smith had declared further time should be needed to obtain complete information on power inquiries already undertaken by other government departments.

Assistant Attorney General Seymour, in charge of trust investigations at the department of justice, was again before the committee in executive session today to describe the inquiry being developed by that department into certain phases of the electric industry.

Senator Norris announced on the floor of the senate today that he would demand a record vote on the resolution regardless of the committee's decision.

"I am not going to see the resolution smothered," he said, "unless I smother something else also. Two can play this game."

He added that while he would not care to be placed in the attitude of filibustering, he would stop other legislation unless the resolution got "fair treatment."

Says Taxes Are Reduced Under His Budget Plan

"The people of the state apparently do not thoroughly understand my budget nor appreciate the fact that they are really receiving a reduction in taxes, in spite of the proposed levy on gasoline," Governor McMullen said Thursday morning, in commenting upon a number of letters he has received the last few days.

"Property taxes will be reduced by a total sum of $1,500,000 each year for the next two years under the budget plan."

This is the result of the cutting off of the levy which has been made in the last few years for road improvement work, he explained.

Under Governor McMullen's plan this money will be raised through the gasoline tax and the result will be that that money will not go in to determine the amount of property tax levies.

A further reduction is to be made in auto license fees if the legislature sees fit. It is estimated that the returns from the gasoline tax will be more than the federal aid and will at the same time provide the department of public works with an additional million dollars to be used for work in the counties. It is estimated that there will be an income of approximately four million dollars from the gasoline tax, figuring at the present automobile census, Governor McMullen said.

ASK TEACHERS' PENSION FUND

Instructors In Smaller Cities Would Have Chance at $500 Yearly Allowance After 40 Years Service, by Provisions of House Bill.

Pensions for school teachers in districts containing cities of 5,000 to 25,000 population are provided for in a bill which Representatives Lee (Adams) and Wilson threw into the house hopper Thursday morning. Establishment of the system is to be optional with the board of education in each city district.

The pension fund will be created by assessing teachers from 1 to 1 1-2 per cent of their monthly salaries, and by setting aside from the general fund of the district an amount 50 per cent more than the contributions from the teachers, or whatever additional sum may be necessary to meet the requirements.

Any teacher who does not desire to come under the pension system may be exempted from it, and from the salary assessments, by filing written notice with the board.

Superintendents Eligible.

Superintendents, principals, supervisors, and assistants are classed with teachers and made eligible to receive pensions.

Any teacher may retire on a pension after 40 years' service, while the board of education may allow retirement after 35 years experience, but in either case the teacher must have been employed by the district for 20 years. The pension allowance is $500 a year for life.

Partial benefits are made available for those who become incapacitated in the service, with a minimum of 25 years' total service and 20 years in the district.

Representative Lee declined to sponsor a state wide educators' pension bill which was given him by Secretary C. W. Hosman of the state teachers' association. It is expected that this will be introduced by some other member or members, however.

Wants Ban On Train Whistles In City Limits

Screeching train whistles would no longer interrupt the midnight slumbers of Nebraska's legislators coming to Lincoln from the small towns, if Senator Cooper's bill is passed. Neither would residents of cities where the whistles are deemed aggravating be bothered in the future.

Senator Cooper introduced S. F. 120 Thursday morning which would give cities of the first class, where the blowing of steam whistles is regulated by city ordinance the authority to deem the ringing of train bells or the blowing of air whistles sufficient for safety, and prohibit the blowing of train whistles within the city limits.

Although Senator Cooper has heard many complaints from legislators regarding the disturbing noises of trains entering Lincoln, he is also looking out for the citizens of his home city, Omaha.

Wants Ten Commandments To Be Displayed In All Schools

An artistic and conspicuous display of the ten commandments upon the wall of every school room, would be required under a bill introduced in the senate today by Senator Johnson. The placards would not bear advertising matter other than the imprint of the person preparing it, according to the bill, and if no donation is made the cost would be paid out of the funds of such public or private institution.

Salary boosts for the chief deputy sheriff of Douglas county, one book keeper, one jailer and other deputies of that county, are provided for in a bill introduced by Senator John C. Cooper.

Senator Cooper's bill making alienation of the affections of a husband or wife a felony, punishable by a prison sentence, or fine or both, was introduced today and will be read again and referred to the committee on judiciary, probably tomorrow.

Another bill by Senator Johnson provides that where an employe loses his position because his wages have been garnished he is not liable for the judgment. This applies where the employe is head of a family.

The senate held short sessions this morning and this afternoon. It is probable that the upper branch will adjourn from Friday until Monday.

RESTORATION TO 1920 LEVEL TURNED DOWN

Senate Later Votes To Exempt Publications Subject To First and Second Zone Rates From 1 Cent a Pound Increase Proposed.

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—A proposal to reduce second class mail rates to the 1920 level was rejected by the senate today as an amendment to the postal pay and rate increase bill.

Defeat of the amendment, offered by Senator George, democrat, Georgia, by a vote of 43 to 36, opened the way for action on the increase in these rates proposed in the bill.

A proposal to make the 1920 rates effective only to newspaper then was defeated also, 65 to 31, on motion of Senator McKellar, democrat, Tennessee.

On motion of Senator Oddie, republican, Nevada, the senate then voted to exempt publications subject to first and second zone mail rates from the 1 cent a pound increase in rates proposed in the bill. As a result, the rate on second class mail sent in the first two zones is retained at 2 cents a pound.

INSURGENTS OF HOUSE IGNORED

La Follette Supporters Not Invited to Attend Republican Caucus.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Republican house leaders moved today to bar La Follette insurgents from the party caucus which will be held February 27 to select candidates for speaker and floor leader.

Invitations to the conference were sent out today by Representative Wood of Indiana, chairman of the republican congressional committee, who was authorized by the republican committee on committees to invite all republican members-elect of the house to participate.

No invitation was sent to Representative Nelson of Wisconsin, leader of the La Follette insurgent block and manager of the La Follette presidential campaign, or to any other of the nine Wisconsin representatives, who although elected as republicans, supported La Follette for president.

Klansmen Are To Stand Guard At Grave Of Young

HERRIN, Ill., Jan. 29.—Two Ku Klux Klansmen will stand guard at the grave of St. Glenn Young, slain klan liquor raider, for a year and perhaps longer, according to a statement made by a prominent klan leader here today.

The precaution is to be taken not because of threats or because there is reason to believe the vault would be disturbed, it was said, but out of respect to Young as long as there remains the slightest possibility of such a thing happening.

(Special to The Star.)

PAWNEE CITY, Neb., Jan. 29.—The picture of President Coolidge, that hung on the wall of the G. A. R. room in the court house here was ordered removed by a four to one vote of the members at the last meeting of the veterans here this week.

Before making his motion, the father of the resolution called on the chair to read article X of the by-laws in which the subject of politics is deplored in meetings of the order. Only five of the old soldiers were at the meeting when the vote was taken.

The portrait of the president was presented by the W. R. C., which also uses the same room as a meeting place. Those who voted for the motion approved the expression of its author that the gift injected a breath of politics into the order. Nothing was said specifically about the president's veto of the pension bill as a possible motive for the action.

The women of the auxiliary are indignant over the removal of the picture, and their expressed intention to return it to the wall presages a lively meeting soon.

Membership of the G. A. R. post here is twenty-six, three of whom are non-resident members.

Change In Subscription Rate

Beginning February 1st, (next Sunday) the subscription price for The Star, daily and Sunday, delivered by carrier in Lincoln and Lincoln suburbs, will be instead of 50c as heretofore.

60c Per Month

While this new rate is an increase of 10c per month over the old rate, the portion remaining after the carrier is paid, represents only a fractional part of the cost of producing the newspaper.

The new rate of 60c per month is still below that charged by other newspapers for a similar service in cities comparable to Lincoln.

Farmers Union Opposed.

[illegible] cent reduction in license fees would be provided. He denied assertions that the state's roads were impassable and said the post roads and farm-to-market roads had not been taken care of as they should have been.

A representative of the sand hill region, J. S. Calvin [?] of Clearwater, said that section "demanded" the gas tax with no cut in fees. He emphasized the desire for more roads, explaining the situation in the north and western part of the state by saying that residents there have to go through South Dakota to get to Omaha and Lincoln by auto.

Arthur Bowerling, from the same section, expressed similar sentiment.

Walter Livingston of Hastings urged good roads as a means of "keeping the boys on the farm," and concluded: "Give us this tax and we'll thank you. We'll look on it as a present."

Would Work Bootleggers.

The suggestion that bootleggers be put to hard labor in building roads was offered by former State Representative J. W. Jacoby of Havelock. He thought a good deal of mileage might well be constructed with convict labor.

B. A. George of Lincoln, connected with the good roads association, declared that organization had nothing to apologize for in relation to its work. He said the gas tax question should be settled without animosity and personal feeling.

Other speakers were Representatives Auten [?], R. E. Riley of Fairbury, W. H. Blakeman of Norfolk, president of the good roads association; Tremmore Cone of Omaha, and Frank D. Eager of the legislative committee of the Lincoln Auto club.

MARRIAGE BILL GOES ON ROCKS

Move For Uniform National Law Voted Down In the House.

Being a new and inexperienced member and not yet hardened to the ups and downs of the legislative game, Representative Carl Becker of Lancaster county took it somewhat to heart Wednesday afternoon when the house killed his bill memorializing congress to submit an amendment to the federal constitution permitting the enactment of national uniform laws on marriage and divorce.

The measure, H. R. [illegible], was Becker's first one to come up for final action and it was one of the first to get the axe at this legislative session. The introducer felt so badly over its fate some of his fellow members had to cheer him up.

H. R. 30 was offered as a companion bill to H. R. 27, the one repealing the 1923 marriage law containing the ten days' notice and affidavit provisions. Becker is one of the six joint introducers of the repeal bill. His friends consoled him with the thought that he may have better luck when it comes before the house.

The bill was buried by a roll call division of 34 to 6.

Pheasant Trapping Approved.

A bill providing for payment of a state bounty, out of the fish and game funds, amounting to 50 cents a pair for trapping pheasants in communities where they have become too numerous and are eating up farmers' crops, so that the birds may be transferred to other localities where people want them, was approved for passage after lengthy discussion.

An amendment to increase the bonus to $1 a pair was voted down, along with one forbidding the chief game warden to employ special deputies to supervise the trapping and redistribution.

Mr. Johnston (Antelope) called attention to the fact that 200 pheasants ordered by the former game warden to be shipped from Europe have reached New York and are now on their way to Nebraska. These fowls cost $5 a pair. It would be much cheaper, said Johnston, to thin out in some parts of this state and take them to other sections at a cost of 50 cents per pair, than to buy them abroad.

Bills Passed.

These bills were read the third time and passed.

H. R. 5 — To abolish petition methods for issuing high school bonds, 72 to 21.

H. R. 26 — Municipal library boards empowered to renew and release mortgages, 95 to 0.

H. R. 52—To increase minimum penitentiary sentence for cattle stealing, now 1 year, to 3 years; 95 to 0.

DEFENSE MADE FOR ATHLETICS

Prof. H. E. Tyler Says Games Have Place in School Work.

[illegible]

"Last fall 400,000 boys in the high schools of the country played football, while several millions of people were witnesses at the games. In the days of the Roman sports 50,000 people watched the games in the coliseum; today 125,000 watch a single football contest."

Declaring that he believed in high school athletics, Tyler said that a few years ago boys and girls grew up on the farms and had plenty of opportunity for exercise. "Today, however, times have changed," he said, "and the young people in the schools come mostly from the city and must have some outlet for their surplus energy. Athletics provides this outlet."

Answering the argument that there is too much money spent on athletics, Tyler declared that all physical training in schools and colleges is paid for by the games themselves and not a cent is provided from the school budget. That money is not the governing factor is brought out by showing that Coach Rockne of Notre Dame refused $25,000 annually to stay where he is for $7,000, and said that the average salary is but $1,800 yearly.

Turning to the critics of games because of injuries Tyler compared the number of deaths and accidents in athletic events to autos, [illegible] and other causes, to the advantage of athletics.

SALARY CLAIM IS NOT THROWN OUT

No Action Taken By Commissioners On Mrs. Morning's Bill.

Appointment Made By Agreement Of District Court Judges.

"I don't know whether we'll refuse to pay Mrs. Morning's salary claim or not," Commissioner T. J. Hensley, chairman of the board of county commissioners said Thursday when asked about Mrs. Grace Morning's claim of $100 for a month's salary to investigation work in the district court, which was filed in the county clerk's office Wednesday.

So far we have not taken any official action and can't until next Tuesday's board meeting. In the meanwhile we are going to consult with attorneys and find out more about the matter," Hensley stated, and the other board members concurred.

Mrs. Morning succeeded E. L. Coombs several months ago as divorce investigator, receiving for several weeks fees collected from litigants in divorce suits amounting to about $100 a month. Shortly before Judge Lincoln Frost left the district bench he put Mrs. Morning on a salary basis of $100 a month after the district judges had met and agreed that this method was the practical one to get around the $5 fee paid for each divorce investigation, for which there was no legal sanction or precedent.

Judge Willard E. Stewart upon assuming charge of the city court continued Mrs. Morning in office in the same line of work, giving her the title of superintendent of child welfare, with the result that the county commissioners have been quoted as considerably aroused by the additional expense in child welfare work.

From General Fund.

The commissioners Thursday, while avoiding committing statements on the subject, denied there was an open issue between the district court, juvenile court, and child welfare department on the one side and the commissioners on the other because of alleged increase in expenses, but said it was merely a matter of not having the money to pay the $100 a month salary. County Attorney Matson holds that the money would come from the general fund if the salary is paid.

Investigation of divorces where children are involved is required by law, and according to Mrs. Morning the work often necessitates investigation at night and long hours. Mrs. Eula D. McEwan was the first to perform this work for the court being followed in office by E. L. Coombs.

The decision to place the investigator on a salary was reached by the judges in order to secure a better working arrangement and a consultation between Judge Fred Shepherd, Judge Lincoln Frost and the commissioners was held for the purpose of affecting an amicable arrangement. Mrs. Morning was then continued in office with the understanding that she was to receive $100 a month from the county.

A. E. Wolf, adult probation officer is the only other welfare worker under the supervision of the district court, outside of the juvenile court officials. Mrs. Frank Hawley, chief probation officer, and Miss Clare Toland, assistant.

SENATE PASSES SEVEN MEASURES

Nearly Unanimous Approval Given; Twelve More Are Introduced.

George R. Mann Appointed Legal Adviser For Upper Branch.

The senate passed almost unanimously the first seven bills coming before it for vote Thursday morning. This marked the beginning of actual consideration of bills for passage or rejection by that body this session. All seven of the measures were introduced by Senator Wiltse and dealt with minor changes in the statutes. The bills follow:

S. F. 2—Allows clerk of the district court a $3 fee for swearing in witnesses.

S. F. 4—No person shall be excused from testifying against another but testimony, unless voluntary, shall not be used against the person testifying.

S. F. County courts of Lancaster and Douglas counties shall not have jurisdiction in juvenile cases except during the absence of district judges.

S. F. 6—Shooting or stabbing with intent to inflict great bodily injury shall be punishable by imprisonment in the state penitentiary.

S. F. 7—Prisoners charged with felony, punishable by three months' imprisonment or $100 fine, or judge may impose both penalties.

S. F. 8—In misdemeanor cases, where the defendant pleads guilty the county judge may render judgment not to exceed six months' imprisonment or a fine not to exceed $500, or both.

S. F. 9—Cases where district and county court have concurrent jurisdiction, where penalty is three months in jail or $100 fine the court may impose both.

George R. Mann of Lincoln was recommended by the senate committee on arrangements and phraseology to be named legal adviser for that body to pass on all bills and determine their legality, interferences with other clauses and to handle the proof reading. He will receive a compensation of $250. He will act in the same capacity for the house and will receive the same pay.

HEAR VIEWS ON GASOLINE TAX

Legislative Committees Hold Open Hearing On Proposed Law.

Diverse views on the subject of a gasoline tax were given at an open hearing Wednesday evening, conducted jointly by the house and senate revenue and highway committees in the house of representatives chamber.

Though several speakers expressed opposition to the tax, the majority sentiment was for it. Some of those expressing approval of the gas levy wanted the present auto license fees retained in order to have more good roads, while others favored a substantial reduction to be made up by the two cent tax on the motor fuel.

C. B. Ellis of Wymore, an attorney representing citizens of Gage county, thought that inasmuch as federal aid on road construction would be discontinued in November 1926, it might be inadvisable to cut license fees. Without sufficient revenue, he set forth, county roads in particular would suffer.

Clinton W. Tumblin, president of the state association of rural mail carriers, who has traveled state roads for 23 years, said his associates were for the gas tax, though not necessarily in favor of trimming license fees. He declared the committees had a duty not to forget the rural carriers.

Farmers' Union Opposed.

J. O. Shroyer, representing the farmers' union of the state, opposed any gas tax at all, but hoped that in case it was enacted, a 50 per cent reduction in license fees would be provided. He denied assertions that the state's roads were impassable, but said the post roads and farm-to-market roads had not been taken care of as they should have been.

A representative of the sand hill region, F. S. Catenby of Clearwater, said that section "demanded" the gas tax, with no cut in fees. He emphasized the desire for more roads, explaining the situation in the north and western part of the state by saying that residents there have to go through South Dakota to get to Omaha and Lincoln by auto.

Arthur Bowerling, from the same section, expressed similar sentiment.

Walter Livingston of Hastings urged good roads as a means of "keeping the boys on the farm," and concluded: "Give us this tax and we'll thank you. We'll look on it as a present."

Would Work Bootleggers.

The suggestion that bootleggers be put to hard labor in building roads was offered by former State Representative I. W. Jacoby of Havelock. He thought a good deal of mileage might well be constructed with convict labor.

B. A. George of Lincoln, connected with the good roads association, declared that organization had nothing to apologize for in relation to its work. He said the gas tax question should be settled without animosity and personal feeling.

Other speakers were Representatives Auten, R. E. Riley of Fairbury, W. H. Blakeman of Norfolk, president of the good roads association; Tenmore Cone of Omaha, and Frank D. Eager of the legislative committee of the Lincoln Auto club.

Dinner For Good Roads Boosters.

About twenty-five attended a dinner and discussion sponsored by the good roads association at the Lincoln hotel, preceding the meeting. Those present were: Walter Livingston, Hastings; J. C. Rahel, Omaha; L. E. Jackson, Neligh; C. A. Bonis, Seward; John Stoetter, Seward; H. H. Adams, Columbus; John D. Forsyth, Niobrara; A. G. Ellick, Omaha; B. F. Parnell, Fairmont; F. D. Eager, Lincoln; B. A. George, Lincoln; W. H. Blakeman, Norfolk; W. A. Ellis, Omaha; W. S. Watson, Hartings; W. Harris Marrow, Omaha; Lloyd C. Thomas, Hastings; J. A. Marrow, Omaha; A. B. Waugh, Norfolk; F. S. Gatenby, Clearwater; J. W. Good, Chadron; L. G. Yochum, Ashland; C. H. Roper, Lincoln; F. W. Putney, Lincoln; P. E. Clements, Lincoln, and W. H. Bauman, Hebron.

HEAVIEST SNOW FALL OF WINTER

Six and a quarter inches of undrifted snow was on the ground here Thursday morning as a result of the heaviest fall of the winter at Lincoln.

Wahoo, where 14 inches was reported, seemed to have received the heaviest fall in the state, with Ashland and David City tying for second with 8 inches each. More than 7 inches fell at Omaha.

Percipitation here was .57 of an inch, while at Omaha it was .68, at North Platte, .06, at Sioux City, .12, and at Valentine, .30.

Over the rest of this part of the state, the fall was from 3 inches to none at all. The Lincoln Telephone company reports are as follows:

Plattsmouth, 3; Seward, 3; Dorchester, 3; Fairmont, 2; Harvard, light; Hastings, light; Hebron, none Superior, light; York, 3; Beatrice, 1½; Fairmont, light; Auburn, 1½; Nebraska City, 2, and Tecumseh, 3.

Temperatures in the eastern section, where there was the most snow, were considerably higher than in the west. At Omaha the mercury stood at 16, at Lincoln and Sioux City, 12, at North Platte, 8, and at Valentine, 4.

On December 23, 1924, the snow depth measured 6 inches, but otherwise the storm has had no rival during this season.

Though deep, the snow was light and did not drift, so did not interfere greatly with train or street car service. The Traction company reported that its cars are all running on time.

MARRIAGE BILL GOES ON ROCKS

Move For Uniform National Law Voted Down in the House.

Being a new and inexperienced member and not yet hardened to the ups and downs of the legislative game, Representative Carl Becker of Lancaster county took it somewhat to heart Wednesday afternoon when the house killed his bill memorializing congress to submit an amendment to the federal constitution permitting the enactment of national uniform laws on marriage and divorce.

This measure, H. R. 30, was Becker's first one to come up for final action and it was one of the first to get the axe at this legislative session. The introducer felt so badly over its that some of his fellow members had to cheer him up.

H. R. 30 was offered as a companion bill to H. R. 29, the one repealing the 1923 marriage law, containing the ten days' notice and affidavit provisions. Becker is one of the six joint introducers of the repeal bill. His friends consoled him with the thought that he may have better luck when it comes before the house.

The bill was buried by a roll call division of 34 to 57.

Pheasant Trapping Approved.

A bill providing for payment of a state bounty, out of the fish and game funds, amounting to 50 cents a pair for trapping pheasants in communities where they have become too numerous and are eating up farmers' crops, so that the birds may be transferred to other localities where people want them, was approved for passage, after lengthy discussion.

An amendment to increase the bonus to $1 a pair was voted down, along with one forbidding the chief game warden to employ special deputies to supervise the trapping and redistribution.

Mr. Johnston (Antelope) called attention to the fact that 200 pheasants ordered by the former game warden to be shipped from Europe have reached New York and are now on their way to Nebraska. These fowls cost $9 a pair. It would be much cheaper, said Johnston, to thin out in some parts of this state and take them to other sections, at a cost of 50 cents per pair, than to buy them abroad.

Bills Passed.

These bills were read the third time and passed:

H. R. 5 — To abolish petition methods for issuing high school bonds, 72 to 21.

H. R. 26 — Municipal library boards empowered to renew and release mortgages, 95 to 0.

H. R. 52—To increase minimum penitentiary sentence for cattle stealing, now 1 year, to 3 years; 95 to 0.

DEFENSE MADE FOR ATHLETICS

Prof. H. E. Tyler Says Games Have Place in School Work.

Speaking at the meeting of the Congregational Men's club at Havelock Tuesday night Prof. Harry E. Tyler, principal of the Havelock high school declared that athletics is one of the most important questions in connection with school life of the present day.

"No one could sit in the University of Nebraska stadium filled with people, or that of California, and watch Notre Dame pitted against the football team of either school without being aware of the great interest in athletics.

"Last fall 500,000 boys in the high schools of the country played football while several millions of people were witnesses at the games. In the days of the Roman sports 50,000 people watched the games in the coliseum; today 100,000 watch a single football contest."

Declaring that he believed in high school athletics Tyler said that a few years ago boys and girls grew up on the farms and had plenty of opportunity for exercise. Today, however, times have changed, he said, and the young people in the schools come mostly from the city and must have some outlet for their surplus energy. Athletics provides this outlet.

Answering the argument that there is too much money spent on athletics Tyler declared that all physical training in schools and colleges is paid for by the games themselves and not a cent is provided from the school budget. That money is not the governing factor he brought out by showing that Coach Rockne of Notre Dame refused $25,000 annually to stay where he is for $7,000, and said that the average salary is but $1,800 yearly.

Turning to the critics of games because of injuries Tyler compared the number of deaths and accidents in athletic events to autos, hooch and other causes, to the advantage of athletics.

CONSTIPATION means WEAKNESS
Constipation is practically universal among civilized human beings. It is a national curse causing inefficiency and physical unpreparedness. It causes disease, premature old age, lessens endurance and resistance, and many times fatal illness is directly traceable to its obnoxious results. The clear eye, healthy look, vim, vigor and vitality can be had only when the bowels are free and are moving regularly.
Dr. Caldwell's SYRUP PEPSIN
The Family Laxative
—promptly relieves constipation. It is not a bitter medicine nor a griping, nauseating, uncomfortable physic. It is a pleasing liquid combination of Egyptian senna, pepsin and aromatics that Dr. Caldwell, with his long and extensive practice, found effective and an aid to Nature in performing her proper functions when the bowels were mistreated through improper food, lack of exercise, and indifference to physical sanitation.
Gently Restores The Bowels To Health
The first dose will gently ease the bowels to action and as Nature resumes her proper functions, the dose may be gradually decreased. Your bowels should act at least twice daily. If they do not, you need Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. 10,000,000 bottles sold annually prove its effectiveness. Used actionally for over 30 years.

Minerva's Mail

Take Your Troubles To Minerva

Not All Harmless

Dear Minerva I read the letter from Teacher (Sunday Jan 4) and I want to say Teacher is right positively right

I know no one is supposed to see wrong in evil in anything that young people of today do It is the lack of seeing evil that sends so many young folks to destruction If all that young people do is so innocent why are the results so sickening?

Minerva out of a birth record of eleven only three couples were married the alloted time all the rest were the sad cases of We had to get married Nothing very innocent about that is there? One young couple just school age married less than five months said the thought of wrong never their minds until one night just for fun they danced in their bathing suits Now had any one of us then said at the time it was immodest she would have been called evil minded

After boys and girls leave boyhood there is no innocence in their being in half nude costume let it be aesthetic dancing or any other name you care to call it Listen to some of the dear innocents talk if you don t believe it

Most aesthetic dancing is silly anyway How foolish to see a barefoot young woman chasing and skipping all over a stage after an imaginary butterfly when if used to use on third that effort to go after an honest goodness sell web on the home walls they would die from hard work

If one doubts what Teacher says about lack of undergarments let them ask the girls themselves there are very few homes where there are girls but what the fight is on over their wanting to wear nothing underneath but teddies Just last week a sixteen year old girl was dressing for a hotel dance and she was hoping her mother wouldn t come into the room until she had on her dress because not one stitch of undergarment did the girl have on but a pink silk vest and so dressed she attended the dance A young girl fool very sick and when she was being undressed by the nurse she was found to have on silk stockings a nice brassiere and a dress She remark I that mother fussed all the time about how vulgar she was but then mother has to learn this is not 16 I think the nurses in high schools make many a plea for girls to put on some clothes

It is such a pity young people have to get into downright disgraceful trouble before there is any harm in what they do A girl I sent word to parents of a beautiful girl that she had reason to think was using cigarettes Did parents thank teacher? They did not They said she was a fault finding old maid that didn t understand youth If my little rascal of a brother hadn t caught sister smoking teacher would now be called old Hickory papa and mamma It is high time parents wake up to the fact that what happens to the rich boys children may happen to yours Of course every parent think they know all their boys and girls do but do they know

Girls and boys don t go cons because it hurt they want to be bad but they are hiring for thrills and excitement They are gone to ruin before they know it A pretty little girl gave boys some hooch for fun because they were so cute when tipsy When the father of one of the boys called at the girls home he was told I am off your son for life why he can t take a sip of hooch without making a big fool of himself I think at some of the New Years eve parties what was proof enough of the length some people are going The time to make the appeal to young people is before it is too late Again I say Teacher is right start with them while young to teach them modesty Becky

Love Must Be Great

Dear Minerva Some three weeks ago I wrote you about my perplexities I it received no answer nor did my letter appear in your mail I am more in a quandary now than when I wrote you and fearing that you did not receive my letter may I briefly state my predicament

I have been married and divorced and made a very good settlement with my husband in fact sufficient to make me practically independent About two years ago I came to Lincoln and have been living with a married sister A few months ago through business associations I met a very fine gentleman who has been married for a number of years but has been living apart from his wife the last two years I have accepted the attentions of this man recently and although at first I merely went with him for pastime and entertainment I now find that I am becoming rather interested in him and he has confessed his love for me and in fact has proposed marriage Since our acquaintance he has filed suit for divorce and insists on an answer from me as soon as he obtains his decree This man is really very eligible has a splendid business and a fine personality He is very domestic and home loving and particularly fond of children During my life I have been fond of a good time enjoying parties and dancing and even now I delight in things of this sort whereas I understand that my friend enjoys none of these pleasures and prefers rather to sit quietly at home playing cards or [illegible] appeal to me

I have never told my friend of my marriage and divorce but now it has reached a point where I feel that he is entitled to know about this as I find myself rather seriously considering his offer

I am quite contented with a business of my own which occupies about seven hours of my time daily My friend is willing in the event of our marriage that I shall continue to carry on my business and would not expect me to dispose of it

Now Minerva considering my unfortunate married life and my failure up to this time to reveal my past experiences and taking my age into account which is 38 and my financial independence and reasonable contentment with my business life do you think that I should accept this offer to marry or would I be more content with my work Would it be possible for me to divide my interests and do full justice both to my home and to my business In doubt

A You have read my answer to your first letter by this time but in that letter you emphasized only your doubt about telling the man of your former marriage and said little if anything about your doubt about the wisdom of marrying

I do not believe you are sufficiently in love with this man to marry him Unless deep love prevails the adjustments would be far too irksome to make Dividing your time between your business and husband would not prove satisfactory as a permanent thing Your likes in pleasures are quite opposite and you do not mention at all the basis of understanding upon which you are drawn together I am doubtful of the success of the venture unless as I said mutual love is great enough to make all sacrifices worth while

We Have No Time

Dear Minerva Before Christmas I had occasion to ask a number of women to do some sewing for the poor I phoned hour after hour and every time would get the answer I haven t the time Often they would say We give to the Community Chest and feel that is all that is necessary But usually the excuse was I am so busy I cannot do it Most of the women solicited have maids and small families Yet they complain all the time over not having any item

Are we progressing I often think not We are certainly time wasters.—Disgusted

A We do seem to fill our lives to a surprising degree with activities outside the home Often it seems we have no time to do the very things we want to do

I marvel at our grandmothers and the work they accomplished Often they gathered the cotton from the fields usually they cleaned and spun it into thread wove it into cloth and made the cloth into clothes sewing by hand They also made rugs carpets comforts cured the meats and made the soap They baked bread pastries made jellies and jams canned fruits Besides which they had time to help their neighbors in time of need acting as nurse for the sick caring for new babies it was helping out with the layettes for the new babies in the community keeping the church going etc

We have all the modern time savers We step into the automobile to go shopping for ready made clothes our food is for the most part partially prepared Yet we have no time for anything

What do we accomplish with our hours?

What do you think? What have you gained that your grandmother did not have What do you give that they did not give?

PRODUCTION IS STILL MOUNTING

Federal Reserve Reports December Trade Better Than 1923.

Monthly Report Shows Year Started Under Favorable Conditions.

Production and employment in December continued the increase which began in the autumn and wholesale prices advanced further to the highest level of the year according to the monthly review of business as reported to the Tenth Federal [illegible] Bank Omaha Railroad shipments of goods continued in large volume and trade both at wholesale and retail was larger than a year ago

Outstanding features of a summary of conditions in the Tenth District are an exceptional large business in the last month of the year The new year started under more favorable conditions than a year ago

Debits by banks of checks drawn against accounts of customers in twenty nine cities is regarded as a fair index to the general business situation The total for the four weeks was $1 136 815 000 Although this was smaller than the four previous weeks the falling off is attributed to the slowing down of many activities for the winter The amount however was larger than for the last four weeks of 1923

Clearings through the reserve banks of the district also indicate the activity of business For December the aggregate was 46 per cent greater than for November and 29 9 per cent greater than for the last four weeks of 1923

Trade Conditions Healthy

Trade conditions generally were more healthy than during the corresponding period last year Wholesale business was in much larger volume and the retail trade though affected during a greater part of the month by cold weather closed with a gain in department store sales of 4 09 per cent above the same time in 1923

There was a smaller movement of wheat to primary markets during December than there was during the corresponding month in 1923 the report says Although prices rose at the end of the month to the highest figures since 1920 reports indicated there was less than 15 per cent of the huge 1924 crop still on the farms Heavy flour milling operations it was said brought the total output for the month to above that of the same month the year previous Corn receipts were more than double those of November and were larger than in December 1923

Marketing of live stock declined [illegible] November but the months receipts of all classes were larger than those for the last month in 1923 Packing operations for the month were correspondingly heavy Building operations for December were 14 1 per cent larger than in December a year previous

Summarizing the report says the year end finds the agricultural situation improved through large production and higher levels of prices paid to growers the live stock industry is in better position than twelve months ago industrial activity normal in enormous volume of trade and banks doing business on a safe and sounder basis

Take Your Troubles To Minerva

Not All Harmless.

Dear Minerva: I read the letter from "Teacher" (Sunday, Jan. 4) and I want to say "Teacher" is right, positively right.

I know no one is supposed to see wrong or evil in anything that young people of today do. It is the lack of seeing evil that sends so many young folks to destruction. If all that young people do is so innocent why are the results so sickening?

Minerva out of a birth record of eleven only three couples were married the alloted time, all the rest were the sad cases of "We had to get married." Nothing very innocent about that, is there? One young couple just school age, married less than five months, said the thought of wrong never crossed their minds until one night "just for fun" they danced in their bathing suits. Now had any "nosey old hen" said at the time it was immodest she would have been called "evil minded."

After boys and girls leave boyhood there is no innocence in their being in half nude costume let it be aesthetic dancing or any other name you care to call it. Listen to some of the "dear innocents" talk, if you don't believe it.

Most aesthetic dancing is silly anyway. How foolish to see a barefoot young woman chasing and skipping all over a stage after an imaginary butterfly when if asked to use one-third that effort to go after an honest-to-goodness cobweb on the home walls they would die from hard work.

If one doubts what "Teacher" says about lack of undergarments let them ask the girls themselves. There are very few homes where there are girls, but what the fight is on over their wanitng to wear nothing underneath but "teddies." Just last week a sixteen-year-old girl was dressing for a hotel dance and she was hoping her mother wouldn't come into the room until she had on her dress because not one stitch of undergarment did the girl have on, but a pink silk vest, and so dressed, she attended the dance. A young girl took very sick and when she was being undressed by the nurse she was found to have on silk stockings, a lace brassiere and a dress. She remarked that "mother fussed all the time about how vulgar she was, but then mother has to learn this is not '76." I think the nurses in high schools make many a plea for girls to put on some clothes.

It is such a pity young people have to get into downright disgraceful trouble before there is any harm in what they do. A teacher sent word to parents of a beautiful girl that she had reason to think was using cigarettes. Did parents thank teacher? They did not. They said she was a fault-finding old maid that didn't understand youth. If sly little rascal of a brother hadn't caught sister smoking teacher would now be called "old liar" by papa and mamma. It's high time parents wake up to the fact that what happens to the neighbor's children may happen to yours. Of course every parent thinks they know all their boys and girls do, but do they know?

Girls and boys don't go wrong because at heart they want to be bad but they are living for thrills and excitement. They are gone to ruin before they knwo it. A pretty little girl gave boys some "hooch" for fun because they were so "cute" when "tipsy." When the father of one of the boys called at the girl's home he was told "I am off your son for life; why he can't take a sip of hooch without making a big fool of himself." I think at some of the New Year's eve parties was was proof enough of the length some people are going. The time to make the appeal to young people is before it is too late. Again I say "Teacher" is right, start with them while young to teach them modesty. Becky.

Love Must Be Great.

Dear Minerva: Some three weeks ago I wrote you about my perplexity, but received no answer, nor did my letter appear in your mail. I am more in a quandary now than when I wrote you, and fearing that you did not receive my letter, may I briefly state my predicament.

I have been married and divorced and made a very good settlement with my husband, in fact, sufficient to make me practically independent. About two years ago I came to Lincoln, and have been living with a married sister. A few months ago, through business associations, I met a very fine gentleman who has been married for a number of years, but has been living apart from his wife the last two years. I have accepted the attentions of this man recently, and although at first I merely went with him for pastime and entertainment, I now find that I am becoming rather interested in him, and he has confessed his love for me, and in fact has proposed marriage. Since our acquaintance he has filed suit for divorce, and insists on an answer from me as soon as he obtains his decree. This man is really very eligible, has a splendid business, and a fine personality. He is very domestic and homeloving, and particularly fond of children. During my life I have been fond of a good time, enjoying parties and dancing, and even now I delight in things of this sort, whereas, I understand that my friend enjoys none of these pleasures, and prefers rather to sit quietly at home, playing cards or reading, neither of which appeal to me.

I have never told my friend of my marriage and divorce, but now it has reached a point where I feel that he is entitled to know about this, as I find myself rather seriously considering his offer.

I am quite contented with a business of my own, which occupies about seven hours of my time daily. My friend is willing, in the event of our marriage, that I shall continue to carry on my business, and would not expect me to dispose of it.

Now Minerva, considering my unfortunate married life, and my failure up to this time to reveal my past experiences, and taking my age into account, which is 38, and my financial independence and reasonable contentment with my business life, do you think that I should accept this offer to marry, or would I be more content with my work. Would it be possible for me to divide my interests and do full justice both to my home and to my business. In doubt.

A. You have read my answer to your first letter by this time, but in that letter you emphasized only your doubt about telling the man of your former marriage and said little if anything about your doubt about the wisdom of marrying.

I do not believe you are sufficiently in love with this man to marry him. Unless deep love prevails, the adjustments would be far too irksome to make. Dividing your time between your business and husband would not prove satisfactory as a permanent thing. Your likes in pleasures are quite opposite and you do not mention at all the basis of understanding upon which you are drawn together. I am doubtful of the success of the venture, unless, as I said, mutual love is great enough to make all sacrifices worth while.

We Have No Time.

Dear Minerva: Before Christmas I had occasion to ask a number of women to do some sewing for the poor. I phoned hour after hour and every time would get the answer "I haven't the time." Often they would say "We give to the Commmunity Chest and feel that is all that is necessary." But usually the excuse was "I am so busy I cannot do it." Most of the women solicited have maids and small families. Yet they complain all the time over not having any item.

Are we progressing? I often think not. We are certainly time wasters.—Disgusted.

A. We do seem to fill our lives to a surprising degree with activities outside the home. Often it seems we have no time to do the very things we want to do.

I marvel at our grandmothers and the work they accomplished. Often they gathered the cotton from the fields, usually they cleaned and spun it into thread, wove it into cloth and made the cloth into clothes, sewing by hand. They also made rugs, carpets, comforts, cured the meats and made the sooap. They baked bread, pastries, made jellies and jams, canned fruits. Besides which they had time to help their neighbors in time of need, acting as nurse for the sick, caring for new babies, always helping out with the layeties for the new babies in the community, keeping the church going, etc.

We have all the modern time savers. We step into the automobile to go shopping for ready-made clothes, our food is for the most part partially prepared. Yet we have no time for anything.

What do we accomplish with our hours?

What do you think? What have you gained that your grandmother did not have What do you give that they did not give?

PRODUCTION IS STILL MOUNTING

Federal Reserve Reports December Trade Better Than 1923.

Monthly Report Shows Year Started Under Favorable Conditions.

Production and employment in December continued the increase which began in the autumn and wholesale prices advanced further to the highest level of the year, according to the monthly review of business as reported to the Tenth federal reserve district at Kansas City. Railroad shipments of goods continued in large volume and trade, both at wholesale and retail, was larger than a year ago.

Outstanding features of a summary of conditions in the Tenth district are an exceptional large business in the last month of the year. The new year started under more favorable conditions than a year ago.

Debits by banks of checks drawn against accounts of customers in twenty-nine cities is regarded as a fair index to the general business situation. The total for the four weeks was $1,156,818,000. Although this was smaller than the four previous weeks, the falling off is attributed to the slowing down of many activities for the winter. The amount, however, was larger than for the last four weeks of 1923.

Clearings through the reserve banks of the district also indicate the activity of business. For December the aggregate was 4.6 per cent greater than for November and 29.2 per cent greater than for the last four weeks of 1923.

Trade Conditions Healthy.

Trade conditions generally were more healthy than during the corresponding period last year. Wholesale business was in much larger volume, and the retail trade though affected during a greater part of the month by cold weather closed with a gain in department store sales of 2.09 per cent above the same time in 1923.

There was a smaller movement of wheat to primary markets during December than there was during the corresponding month in 1923, the report says. Although prices rose at the end of the month to the highest figures since 1920, reports indicated there was less than 15 per cent of the huge 1924 crop still on the farms. Heavy flour milling operations, it was said, brought the total output for the month to above that of the same month the year previous. Corn receipts were more than double those of November and were larger than in December 1923.

Marketing of live stock declined slightly, except for hogs, from November, but the month's reseipts of all classes were larger than those for the last month in 1923. Packing operations for the month were correspondingly heavy. Building operations for December were 14.1 per cent larger than in December a year previous.

Summarizing, the report says the year-end finds the agricultural situation improved through large production and higher levels of prices paid to growers; the live stock industry is in better position than twelve months ago; industrial activity normal, an enormous volume of trade and banks doing business on a safer and sounder basis.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94% AIR

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up; is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent air and 6 per cent common kerosene (coal oil).

The inventor, C. N. Johnson, 609 W. Lake St., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.—Advertisement.

Spanish War Men Entitled to Medals For Their Service

Announcement of the receipt of a Spanish war service medal by Joseph C. Mason, a former Lincoln man now of Chicago, has called forth the statement from Otto W. Meier, judge advocate general, that all soldiers who served in the three regiments of Nebraska volunteer infantry during the Spanish-American war and Jacob Culver's troop K of cavalry are each entitled to one or more of the distinctive service medals, according to the time and place of their service. Those who served exclusively within the United States ninety days or more may receive the Spanish war service medal, while those of the third regiment of Nebraska who served in Cuba are entitled to the Cuban occupation medal, and those of the first regiment of Nebraska volunteer infantry who served in the Philippines are each entitled to three of the service medals, one of which is the Spanish war campaign medal for participation in the capture of Manila, one for the part they performed in the suppression of the Philippine insurrection, and a third medal which is known as the Philippine congressional medal is also awarded to all of the soldiers who served in the first regiment of Nebraska over time after the treaty of peace with Spain was signed. To obtain these service medals, it is necessary to procure from the adjutant general of the U. S. army, Washington, D. C., the official form on which application for the medals must be made, and the application must show the specific time and place of the service rendered, and when the record is checked in the war department the medals are mailed to the applicants according to their merit. A limited supply of the forms on which applications may be made for medals can be obtained from O. W. Meier at Lincoln, Nebraska.

"The Gingham Girl" Has Cancelled Lincoln Engagement.

Manager Garman received a wire stating that owing to Mr. Al Jolson's illness the Shubert office was compelled to re-route several of their attractions, this made necessary the cancellation of "The Gingham Girl" in Lincoln.

The 17th Infantry Regimental Band Headlines a Great Bill Opening at the Liberty Today.

One of the most costly programs of the season opens matinee today at the Liberty. The 17th Infantry Regimental Band, an aggregation of thirty finished musicians, Warrant Officer Herman Webel, conductor, will present one of the most varied entertaining programs playing vaudeville today. Dunbar and Turner, a clever duo of funsters, who never fail to convulse their audience with laughter; Henry B. Toomer & Company in a new one-act playlet called "A Very Bad Cold"; the Victoria Trio, three unusually clever girls, featuring Margaret Mantell, America's foremost imitator in a novel singing offering; Bob McDonald and Helen Oakes, two accomplished and agile dancers; and the Spat Family in a new side-splitting comedy, "A Hard Boiled Tenderfoot" completes another big bill that should tax the capacity of the Liberty.

Norma Talmadge in "The Only Woman" at the Rialto.

She married the man she hated to save her father from disgrace, and it took a shipwreck to make her realize she loved him. And such a wreck; never has anything more vividly real and thrilling been seen in motion pictures. Norma Talmage and Eugene O'Brien, the great lovers of the screen are reunited in "The Only Woman."

Blanche Sweet and Conrad Nagel in "Tess of the D'Urbervilles" at the Lyric.

If you saw Mrs. Fiske at the height of her career when she electrified the country with her performance as "Tess", if you read the tremenudos novel on which the stage play was founded; or, if you want the memorable thrill of both stage play and novel to come to you in their fresh glory, you should see "Tess of the D'Urbervilles" starring Blanche Sweet and Conrad Nagel.

Bebe Daniels and Richard Dix in "Sinners in Heaven" at the Colonial.

"Sinners in Heaven" is a thrilling desert island romance along brand new lines, with Bebe as the girl and Dix as the man. Don't miss it! Jack Dempsey in another stirring story of the "Fight and Win" series, and "All Night Long" a mirth provoking comedy with Harry Langdon.

Refuses To Mix In Chiro Quarrel

It was decided Wednesday afternoon by the house committee on medical societies that this session of the Nebraska legislature does not want to waste time threshing over the long standing quarrel between rival factions in the chiropractic profession. The committee voted to kill H. SCHOOLS WORK FOR PREVENTION

Task Is to Stop Illness Before It Has Chance to Start.

Speakers Tell of Success of Health Program In Lincoln Schools.

Lincoln schools are now in the third and most highly developed stage of health work, according to the consensus of opinion taken Wednesday evening at a meeting of sixteen school nurses and doctors at the Lincoln hotel.

The meeting and dinner was in honor of Miss Emily A. Schrader, a school nurse since 1916, who left the service last Saturday to take up her work with the new municipal hospital. As her part of the program, she gave a short talk on her work in the schools since eight years ago, the comparatively crude methods of treating some diseases then and the progress that has since been made.

The stage in which the schools now find themselves is that of prevention, it was pointed out. Health work in the schools has developed along very similar lines to health work in gneral. First there was the task of finding and preventing contagious diseases; then of correcting physical defects; and now, as with the general practitioner, the object is to stop all kinds of illness before it has a chance to start.

Speakers were: Dr. Inez Philbrick, "The Beginning of Health Work in Lincoln Schools;" Dr. Earl B. Brooks, "Health as Related to the Prevention of Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Defects; Miss Ruth E. Freeborn, "Health Education in the Classroom Essential to the Work of the School Nurse;" Mrs. Max Westermann, "Suggestions for Health Improvement of Teachers and Students;" Dr. R. B. Adams, "Suggestions for Reaching Pupils in the Nutrition Class who Fail to Progress;" Dr. L. F. Meier, "Health Edudcation in the Classroom Related to Preventive Denistry;" Dr. Ruth Warner, "Physical Findings as the Result of Examining Apparently Well Women Teachers;" and Dr. Miles J. Breuer, "Examinations of Men Teachers."

PROF. DODD TO GIVE ADDRESS

Chicago Historian and Intimate of War President Here Thursday.

William E. Dodd, University of Chicago professor, historian and intimate of Woodrow Wilson and Colonel House, will be the principal speaker at a meeting to be held Thursday evening at the University club. The meeting is being arranged by University of Chicago alumni, according to Prof. Fred W. Upson, head of the University of Nebraska, chemistry department, who is in charge of the educator's visit.

"Mr. Dodd will speak on the program of development planned for the University of Chicago," Mr. Upson said today. "He is a vigorous speaker and has had an interesting career. During the war he was connected with the House commission, preparing data for use at the peace conference.

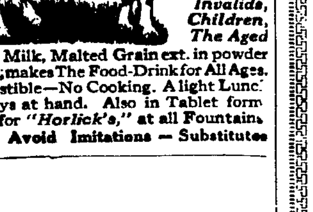

"His 'Wilson at the Peace Conference' was the result of his rather intimate relations with the war president and was well received. At the formal organization of the Wilson foundation two years ago, he was one of the principal speakers."

Alumni of the University of Chicago and the Rush Medical college have been invited.

The 17th Infantry Regimental Band Headlines a Great Bill Opening at the Liberty Today.

One of the most costly programs of the season opens matinee today at the Liberty. The 17th Infantry Regimental Band, an aggregation of thirty finished musicians, Warrant Officer Herman Webel, conductor, will present one of the most varied entertaining programs playing vaudeville today. Dunbar and Turner, a clever duo of funsters, who never fail to convulse their audience with laughter; Henry B. Toomer & Company in a new one-act playlet called "A Very Bad Cold"; the Victoria Trio, three unusually clever girls, featuring Margaret Mantell, America's foremost imitator in a novel singing offering; Bob McDonald and Helen Oakes, two accomplished and agile dancers; and the Spat Family in a new side-splitting comedy, "A Hard Boiled Tenderfoot" completes another big bill that should tax the capacity of the Liberty.

Norma Talmadge in "The Only Woman" at the Rialto.

She married the man she hated to save her father from disgrace, and it took a shipwreck to make her realize she loved him. And such a wreck; never has anything more vividly real and thrilling been seen in motion pictures. Norma Talmage and Eugene O'Brien, the great lovers of the screen are reunited in "The Only Woman."

Blanche Sweet and Conrad Nagel in "Tess of the D'Urbervilles" at the Lyric.

If you saw Mrs. Fiske at the height of her career when she electrified the country with her performance as "Tess", if you read the tremenudos novel on which the stage play was founded; or, if you want the memorable thrill of both stage play and novel to come to you in their fresh glory, you should see "Tess of the D'Urbervilles" starring Blanche Sweet and Conrad Nagel.

Bebe Daniels and Richard Dix in "Sinners in Heaven" at the Colonial.

"Sinners in Heaven" is a thrilling desert island romance along brand new lines, with Bebe as the girl and Dix as the man. Don't miss it! Jack Dempsey in another stirring story of the "Fight and Win" series, and "All Night Long" a mirth provoking comedy with Harry Langdon.

Refuses To Mix In Chiro Quarrel

It was decided Wednesday afternoon by the house committee on medical societies that this session of the Nebraska legislature does not want to waste time threshing over the long standing quarrel between rival factions in the chiropractic profession. The committee voted to kill H. R. 56, introduced at the instance of the anti-Palmer school chiropractors, which was intended to repeal the law enacted in 1923 and again change the qualifications required of those who practice the spinal manipulation method of healing.

SCHOOLS WORK FOR PREVENTION

Task Is to Stop Illness Before It Has Chance to Start.

Speakers Tell of Success of Health Program In Lincoln Schools.

Lincoln schools are now in the third and most highly developed stage of health work, according to the consensus of opinion taken Wednesday evening at a meeting of sixteen school nurses and doctors at the Lincoln hotel.

The meeting and dinner was in honor of Miss Emily A. Schrader, a school nurse since 1916, who left the service last Saturday to take up her work with the new municipal hospital. As her part of the program, she gave a short talk on her work in the schools since eight years ago, the comparatively crude methods of treating some diseases then and the progress that has since been made.

The stage in which the schools now find themselves is that of prevention, it was pointed out. Health work in the schools has developed along very similar lines to health work in gneral. First there was the task of finding and preventing contagious diseases; then of correcting physical defects; and now, as with the general practitioner, the object is to stop all kinds of illness before it has a chance to start.

Speakers were: Dr. Inez Philbrick, "The Beginning of Health Work in Lincoln Schools;" Dr. Earl B. Brooks, "Health as Related to the Prevention of Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Defects; Miss Ruth E. Freeborn, "Health Education in the Classroom Essential to the Work of the School Nurse;" Mrs. Max Westermann, "Suggestions for Health Improvement of Teachers and Students;" Dr. R. B. Adams, "Suggestions for Reaching Pupils in the Nutrition Class who Fail to Progress;" Dr. L. F. Meier, "Health Edudcation in the Classroom Related to Preventive Denistry;" Dr. Ruth Warner, "Physical Findings as the Result of Examining Apparently Well Women Teachers;" and Dr. Miles J. Breuer, "Examinations of Men Teachers."

Painful Rheumatic Swellings Disappear

Discoverer Tells Druggist Not to Take a Cent of Anyone's Money Unless Allenrhu Completely Banishes All Rheumatic Pains and Twinges.

James H. Allen, of 25 Forbes St., Rochester, N. Y., suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery which he called ALLENRHU, to others who took it with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed Piller's Prescription Pharmacy and druggists everywhere to dispense ALLENRHU with the understanding that if the first pint bottle does not show the way to complete recovery he will gladly return your money without comment. — Advertisement.

ACCIDENT VICTIM A POPULAR MAN

Fred Lea Suffered From Gas While Serving In France.

(Special to The Star.)

FREMONT, Neb., Jan. 29.—The body of Fred Lea, well known Fremont fireman whose death occurred at Hastings, was brought to Fremont last evening and it lies today at Bader's chapel. Lea was one of the most popular firemen at the city hall. He was well known as an athlete, having been a crack player in the Elkhorn Valley baseball league and having carried off the batting honors of the league last year.

Lea's death followed an operation by which his leg was placed in a cast. During the firemen's convention a few days ago, the charge from a small noise-making cannon lodged in his ankle, leaving an ugly wound.

Friends of Lea say that the effect on his lungs of gas during service in France, in the World war, accounted for his sudden passing during the surgical operation. He died suddenly from heart-failure while oxygen was being administered. Lea's wife, formerly Frieda Herre, a Fremont girl, and his sister, Miss Margaret Lea of Omaha, were at his bedside, and accompanied the body to Fremont.

Showman Censors His Own Pictures

(Special to The Star.)

HARTINGTON, Neb., Jan. 29.—After reading in the state papers that R. V. Fletcher, manager of the motion picture theatre here, was his own censor and had closed his movie show while running an objectionable picture, a large number of people throughout the state wrote personal letters to Mr. Fletcher commending him for the stand he had taken in safeguarding the youth by eliminating the things "off color" and assuring the parents of his co-operation in throwing around the children the very best influences.

Accident Company Resists Payment

(Special to The Star.)

FREMONT, Neb., Jan. 29.—Defense witnesses are being introduced today in the suit of A. Zlotkey, wealthy Fremont merchant, against the London Guarantee company, growing out of an automobile accident in which Zlotkeys coupe turned over. Zlotkey claims permanent injuries and that he carried insurance in the company. The defense is attempting to show that Zlotkey has exaggerated the extent of his hurts. Zlotkey has walked with great difficulty since the accident.

BRIDGEPORT, Neb., Jan. 29.—Bridgeport's Lions club has started a movement to do away with duplication of charity donations, which has been possible through the present plan of several organizations dispensing aid in the city. It proposes a new society, to take over all charitable enterprises, and to be known as the Associated Charities of Bridgeport. The plan is to have one representative of each club, society and organization in the city, on this board of charity, and all ready, practically every society has agreed to the plan.

(Special to The Star.)

MADISON, Neb., Jan. 29.—The annual banquet of the Madison Community club was held Tuesday evening in the parlors of the Methodist church, splendidly served by the M. E. Ladies Aid to upwards to 150 members and their wives. It was the most interesting and important banquet in the club's history.

Following invocation by Rev. Father Brass of St. Leonard's church, Rev. John D. Hammel, president of the club as toastmaster introduced Mayor James Nichols, who, responded eloquently to "The Community Spirit." "The Farmer and Community Club," was referred to humorously by Henry Sunderman, president of the Fair association.

Superintendent E. E. Rogers of the city schools, spoke on the subject "Our Boys, the Greatest Asset" and Mrs. W. L. Dowling's response to "Our Girls, Just as Great" brought forth unusual applause and was highly appreciated.

J. R. Kinders toast to "Movies" was not only the occasion of much mirth and entertainment, but abounded in suggestions of serious and practical character. Dr. F. A. Long, concluded the evening program by a practical and interesting discussion on "Fields of Activity for Community Effort."

Nebraska Eggs By Thousands Daily Sent to New York

(Special to The Star.)

WYMORE, Neb., Jan. 29. — Although there is still an embargo on shipments of live poultry from Nebraska to New York markets, and conditional arrangements exist at other markets on chickens, eggs are being shipped through here from Nebraska points to New York and Chicago and eastern markets daily. New Yorkers seem to like the eggs if the chickens are not good to eat. An average of two carloads, or 1,00 cases, containing 30,000 dozen eggs, pass through here daily. The price of eggs at local markets today is 40 cents. Two weeks ago they were as high as 60 cents per dozen here.

Coming after the recent embargo extened by New York State to Ohio, New Jersey and other eastern states, the increase is expected to have a stimulating effect on poultry raisers of this section.

HOLDEN DEFENDS RAIL OPERATION

Calls Attention to Huge Deficit Incurred By the Government.

OMAHA, Jan. 29.—A report of the director general of railroads that taxpayers have had to pay a deficit of $1,600,000,000 as a result of the war time government operation of the railroads, was quoted by Hale Holden, president of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad as an example of the inefficiency and waste of government operation, in an address before the Omaha chamber of commerce today.

Mr. Holden criticised various legislative proposals such as the Howell-Barkley bill and the Gooding bill, designed to make important changes in the transportation act.

"The railways," he said, appeal to their record of actual and satisfactory achievement as a vindication of the transportation act and of private management under the reckless criticism to which both have been subjected during the last five years."

Young Redish, jumped into ten feet of water in the Platte river, to rescue fourteen year old Julius Burke, after the latter had sunk twice, when he stepped into a hole that was too deep for him. Redish risked his own life to save Burke, and the local council believes he is entitled to the honor conferredon Scouts for such an act.

Painful Rheumatic Swellings Disappear

Discoverer Tells Druggist Not to Take a Cent of Anyone's Money Unless Allenrhu Completely Banishes All Rheumatic Pains and Twinges.

James H. Allen, of 26 Forbes St., Rochester, N. Y., suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery which he called ALLENRHU, to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed Piller's Prescription Pharmacy and druggists everywhere to dispense ALLENRHU with the understanding that if the first pint bottle does not show the way to complete recovery he will gladly return your money without comment. — Advertisement.

D. Sandham, Omaha, second vice president; E. B. Clarke, Omaha, secretary; F. S. Stott, Omaha, treasurer; T. R. Kimball, Omaha, director for two years; H. W. Meginnis, Lincoln, director, continued. THE COST OF PATERNALISM.

The refusal of the Lancaster county board of commissioners to pay a claim for salary of $100 a month to Mrs Grace Morning appointed by Judge Lincoln Frost to the office of superintendent of child welfare and domestic relations furnishes evidence of a determination to resist the increasing cost of paternalistic government

Mrs Morning's appointment it was said by County Attorney Matson was made without special authority of law No particular section of the statute confers power upon the court to name a superintendent. Only the broad general terms of the law which permit the court to take such action as it deems necessary can be cited in support of the appointment

The increase in welfare activities in Lancaster county is a splendid example of what happens when government becomes paternalistic There are unlimited possibilities for expansion and the common experience has been that the zeal and enthusiasm of the welfare workers carry them far beyond the original conceptions of the undertaking Four years ago the cost of welfare work in this county was but $2 400 It was confined to the activities of the juvenile court which admittedly did a great deal of good among the unfortunate children of this community But see what has happened Instead of a probation officer and her assistant Lancaster county now has a chief juvenile officer at a salary of $150 a month a deputy who receives $125 and the upkeep of an enclosed car an adult probation officer at $100 a month and a superintendent of child welfare and domestic relations at $100 a month That is expansion with a vengeance Instead of the original $2 400 which the county board claims represented the cost of the work in 1920 the activities are now costing $10 000

Suppose this same alarming increase should be reflected in every county of the state

Add to it the very considerable sums being spent under state direction Then pile on the activities which come under federal supervision and which are paid for by congressional appropriation It is clearly evident that paternalism in government is costing this country millions of dollars every year

In a large measure the development of welfare work is responsible for the amazing increase in the number of office holders and the rapidly growing tax burden It has brought into being boards and bureaus and commissions with large staffs of workers

The desire to better mankind is a very noble instinct That is why those who have viewed this paternalistic trend in government with alarm have been loath to speak But there is a peculiar element in the welfare work which affects those engaged in it They become imbued with the spirit of the crusader They press forward and onward seeing in misery and unhappiness new fields to conquer They would rob childhood of its hardships and the grim lessons of want Where is there an individual who does not warm to this exalted idealism? It has furnished the inspiration for the most outstanding development in the last half century as represented in the humanitarian movements which have come to fruition in that period.

We know now that we have pressed forward as far as it is possible at this time.

The mounting costs are a warning signal that we must pause for the time being Who supports these activities? The taxpayer The owner of property Business. Every individual and every concern engaged in productive industry must bear its share If you load them too heavily they will fall under weight of their burden

THE GRISWOLD DIVORCE BILL

There is real merit in the Griswold proposal to limit the filing of divorce actions to six months after the marriage ceremony has been performed It would have the tendency to curtail hasty marriage and might avert separations

But if there is any subject upon which congress should take action it is the matter of marriage and divorce A bill is now pending before congress upon this subject It would have the effect of standardizing laws in every state of the union The same restrictions for marriage in New York state would apply in Nebraska and the same limitations upon divorce would obtain in Reno as well as in this state

The measure which is before congress represents the work of various social groups It is the result of exhaustive research and embraces the most enlightened views of the subject Ordinarily memorials to congress are unavailing but if a considerable number of the states were to petition for action some substantial results might be achieved Until such time it might be well to make divorce increasingly difficult in Nebraska.

PROBLEMS OF LARGE CITIES

The problems of civilization and particularly of urban life are many and the more densely a country is populated the more numerous and the more serious do these problems become For many years the problem of sewage disposal has agitated Chicago and during this time it has grown into not only a state and national issue but into one of international proportions

It was in 1889 that the Illinois legislature authorized the city to turn its sewage into Chicago river a connecting channel to be constructed for the purpose and thence into the DesPlaines and Illinois rivers and ultimately into the Mississippi Over one hundred million dollars has been spent on this project to date and now it is meeting with bitter opposition from various places

The city claims the right for dilution purposes of diverting 10 000 cubic feet of water per second from Lake Michigan and for years it has been using almost that amount The federal government claims however through the war department that it is only entitled to 4 167 cubic feet per second which would be entirely inadequate for the needs of the system

Various cities located on the Great Lakes claim that the immense amount diverted for the Chicago canal has had the effect of lowering the level of the lakes and shipping has in this manner been seriously interfered with but Chicago people insist that this contention is based on merely theoretical grounds and that the fight upon it is being stirred up by its enemies It is asserted that backers of the St Lawrence waterway project are opposing it in fear that its channel may ultimately bring about the Lakes to the Gulf waterway to the damage of the other project

But regardless of the controversy now waging Chicago is bound to be at an additional expense of tremendous proportions for there is no possibility that the river can for all future time carry away the city's sewage It has at present a program for the construction of treatment plants which will involve the expenditure of $120 000 000 in the next twenty years and it must still use the rivers it now uses If it is not allowed the 10 000 cubic feet of water per second its disposal plants will cost twice $120 000 000

It is not to be wondered at that large cities require large revenues

DEAN CUTTER GOES TO NORTHWESTERN

Dean I S Cutter of the University of Nebraska College of Medicine leaves his office at Omaha June 1 to take the deanship of the Northwestern Medical college

This is one of the most important academic posts ever held by a graduate of Nebraska and is given to a man who has proved his worth by effecting a remarkable change in the Omaha school at little expense to the people of this state

Dean Cutter is not only a Nebraska faculty member but is a graduate of this school As a student he specialized in chemistry under Samuel Avery and later taught that science in the Beatrice high school before taking a medical course at Omaha After studying physiological chemistry at Harvard he returned to the school and accepted a professorship His rise to secretary of the faculty then to dean of the school and superintendent of the hospital has been rapid

Last fall President Wilber of Leland Sanford remarked to Chancellor Avery that I was favorably impressed with your medical college at Omaha It shows how far medical education can be conducted at a relatively small expense to the people

Through Dean Cutter's efforts there are now a commodious laboratory a large hospital and a nurses home at Omaha There is always a large number of students seeking admittance

In a resolution passed when his resignation was accepted the board of regents states that they are proud of the development of medical education under his leadership and consider the university fortunate for having the benefit of his service during the relatively long period of years during which he has been not only the presiding officer but the guiding spirit of this important college

Such men are produced at Nebraska

SUPPLYING THE WORLD WITH PORK

One more article for which the world now looks to the United States is pork The United States now has more swine than China and with the exception of that country has more than any half dozen other nations put together

This leadership in the pork industry has come about along with other interesting events as the result of the late war Before 1914 China led America in the number of its swine by seventeen million but the ratio has now been reversed and America has sixty eight million while the oriental country has but forty-five million Brazil has but eighteen million and Germany only seventeen million

America's supply has shown a marked increase during the last few years while that in other quarters of the globe has fallen off In Germany France and other countries that actively participated in the war this decrease has been especially marked The meat consumption in the old countries is higher than in most other sections The drop in number in Germany was three million during the war while in France the decrease was but a million less

The whole world's supply of pork has been materially decreased since the war as there are now but 220 million porkers alive while in 1913 there were 259 Practically all of the world looks to the United States for its supply of pork products and our exports of such goods have exceeded a billion dollars in the ten years since the beginning of the war ranging from $117 000 000 in 1913 to $443 000 000 in 1923 and $210 000 000 for 1914

More Truth Than Poetry

There are so many paths that wind
By easy stages down to sin
It's such an easy thing to find
Gay haunts where crime and vice begin
That one may marvel every day
To see among the young and old
How few there are who go astray
How many choose the safer way
Their names obscure their worth untold

There are so many pitfalls made
For those who blindly rush along
So many false fronts are displayed
Where nothing's right and all is wrong
That wonder comes to him who sees
How many men move straight ahead
Unswerved by sugared sophistries
And deaf to all the spacious pleas
By which the thoughtless are misled

The righteous course is made so hard
Its resting places are so rare
And men so seldom win regard
For faithful silent service there
That one may justly wonder why
So many men keep bravely on
With hopes that are foredoomed to die
And having courage still to try
When failure comes with every dawn

So many ways there are that lead
To that which fools may think success
Their prizes are so rich whom greed
Induces to be pitiless
That one who sees must find it plain
That men grow God like since so few
Depart from righteous ways for gain
And since so many can refrain
From follies that the weak pursue

High Blood Pressure

Blood pressure is dependent upon two big factors namely the force of the heart beat and the elasticity of the blood vessels over the whole body

The reason the pressure in our water pipes is always high is because the pumping station is giving the same force at each stroke and the pipes that lead into our homes are incapable of any elasticity Consequently a high water pressure at all times

The difference between our water pressure and our blood pressure is accounted for in that the blood vessels over the body are elastic and will stretch to allow the blood to pass through

High blood pressure is inevitable when the walls of the arteries become crusted with a calcium deposit The tubes or arteries through which the blood flows become smaller due to the deposit and the elasticity of the vessels diminishes When the blood vessels become crusted and the heart's pumping force remains the same the same amount of blood must pass through the smaller tubes hence a rise in blood pressure

Many people seem to think that high blood pressure is a sign of impending death This is far from true It does signify that physical or mental overwork should be eliminated for the vessel walls may break under the strain

Numbness or faintness in persons over 50 years of age are the usual warnings of too much strain on the heart arteries In middle life there is a tendency for the walls of the arteries to become hardened due to the deposit of calcium salts from the blood This change in the blood vessels is called arterio sclerosis Sometimes the vessels at the wrist feel like pipe stems due to this sclerosis

The heart always bears the brunt of the high blood pressure It enlarges itself to try and keep the same amount of room in the arterial system for the blood that has been lessened by the hardening of the arteries over the whole body

The vessels of the brain are among the first to be affected by the deposit of calcium When these vessels break we have the stroke that you have all heard about

The chief causes of high blood pressure are over eating mental or physical overworking chronic tobacco poisoning alcoholism and acute infections

THE COST OF PATERNALISM.

The refusal of the Lancaster county board of commissioners to pay a claim for salary of $100 a month to Mrs. Grace Morning, appointed by Judge Lincoln Frost to the office of "superintendent of child welfare and domestic relations" furnishes evidence of a determination to resist the increasing cost of paternalistic government.

Mrs. Morning's appointment, it was said by County Attorney Maison, was made without special authority of law. No particular section of the statute confers power upon the court to name a superintendent. Only the broad, general terms of the law, which permit the court to take such action as it deems necessary, can be cited in support of the appointment.

The increase in welfare activities in Lancaster county is a splendid example of what happens when government becomes paternalistic. There are unlimited possibilities for expansion, and the common experience has been that the zeal and enthusiasm of the welfare workers carry them far beyond the original conceptions of the undertaking. Four years ago the cost of welfare work in this county was but $2,400. It was confined to the activities of the juvenile court, which admittedly did a great deal of good among the unfortunate children of this community. But see what has happened. Instead of a probation officer and her assistant, Lancaster county now has a chief juvenile officer at a salary of $150 a month, a deputy, who receives $125 and the upkeep of an enclosed car, an adult probation officer at $100 a month and a superintendent of child welfare and domestic relations at $100 a month. That is expansion with a vengeance. Instead of the original $2,400 which the county board claims represented the cost of the work in 1920, the activities are now costing $10,000.

Suppose this same alarming increase should be reflected in every county of the state.

Add to it the very considerable sums being spent under state direction. Then pile on the activities which come under federal supervision and which are paid for by congressional appropriation. It is clearly evident that paternalism in government is costing this country millions of dollars every year.

In a large measure the development of welfare work is responsible for the amazing increase in the number of office holders and the rapidly-growing tax burden. It has brought into being boards, and bureaus and commissions, with large staffs of workers.

The desire to better mankind is a very noble instinct. That is why those who have viewed this paternalistic trend in government with alarm have been loath to speak. But there is a peculiar element in the welfare work which affects those engaged in it. They become imbued with the spirit of the crusader. They press forward and onward, seeing in misery and unhappiness, new fields to conquer. They would rob childhood of its hardships and the grim lessons of want. Where is there an individual who does not warm to this exalted idealism? It has furnished the inspiration for the most outstanding development in the last half century as represented in the humanitarian movements which have come to fruition in that period.

We know now that we have pressed forward as far as it is possible at this time.

The mounting costs are a warning signal that we must pause for the time being. Who supports these activities? The taxpayer. The owner of property. Business. Every individual and every concern engaged in productive industry must bear its share. If you load them too heavily they will fall under weight of their burden.

THE GRISWOLD DIVORCE BILL.

There is real merit in the Griswold proposal to limit the filing of divorce actions to six months after the marriage ceremony has been performed. It would have the tendency to curtail hasty marriage, and might avert separations.

But if there is any subject upon which congress should take action, it is the matter of marriage and divorce. A bill is now pending before congress upon this subject. It would have the effect of standardizing laws in every state of the union. The same restrictions for marriage in New York state would apply in Nebraska, and the same limitations upon divorce would obtain in Reno as well as in this state.

The measure which is before congress represents the work of various social groups. It is the result of exhaustive research and embraces the most enlightened views of the subject. Ordinarily memorials to congress are unavailing but if a considerable number of the states were to petition for action, some substantial results might be achieved. Until such time it might be well to make divorce increasingly difficult in Nebraska.

PROBLEMS OF LARGE CITIES.

The problems of civilization and particularly of urban life are many and the more densely a country is populated the more numerous and the more serious do these problems become. For many years the problem of sewage disposal has agitated Chicago and during this time it has grown into not only a state and national issue, but into one of international proportions.

It was in 1889 that the Illinois legislature authorized the city to turn its sewage into Chicago river, a connecting channel to be constructed for the purpose, and thence into the DesPlaines and Illinois rivers and ultimately into the Mississippi. Over one hundred million dollars has been spent on this project to date and now it is meeting with bitter opposition from various places.

The city claims the right, for dilution purposes, of diverting 10,000 cubic feet of water per second from Lake Michigan and for years it has been using almost that amount. The federal government claims, however, through the war department, that it is only entitled to 4,167 cubic feet per second, which would be entirely inadequate for the needs of the system.

Various cities located on the Great Lakes claim that the immense amount diverted for the Chicago canal has had the effect of lowering the level of the lakes and shipping has in this manner been seriously interfered with, but Chicago people insist that this contention is based on merely theoretical grounds and that the fight upon it is being stirred up by its enemies. It is asserted that backers of the St. Lawrence waterway project are opposing it in fear that its channel may ultimately bring about the Lakes-to-the-Gulf waterway, to the damage of the other project.

But regardless of the controversy now waging, Chicago is bound to be at an additional expense of tremendous proportions, for there is no possibility that the river can for all future time carry away the city's sewage. It has at present a program for the construction of treatment plants which will involve the expenditure of $120,000,000 in the next twenty years and it must still use the rivers it now uses. If it is not allowed the 10,000 cubic feet of water per second its disposal plants will cost twice $120,000,000.

It is not to be wondered at that large cities require large revenues.

DEAN CUTTER GOES TO NORTHWESTERN.

Dean I. S. Cutter of the University of Nebraska College of Medicine, leaves his office at Omaha June 1 to take the deanship of the Northwestern Medical college.

This is one of the most important academic posts ever held by a graduate of Nebraska, and is given to a man who has proved his worth by effecting a remarkable change in the Omaha school at little expense to the people of this state.

Dean Cutter is not only a Nebraska faculty member, but is a graduate of this school. As a student, he specialized in chemistry under Samuel Avery, and later taught that science in the Beatrice high school before taking a medical course at Omaha. After studying physiological chemistry at Harvard, he returned to the school and accepted a professorship. His rise to secretary of the faculty, then to dean of the school and superintendent of the hospital has been rapid.

Last fall, President Wilber of Leland Sanford remarked to Chancellor Avery that "I was favorably impressed with your medical college at Omaha. It shows how far medical education can be conducted at a relatively small expense to the people."

Through Dean Cutter's efforts there are now a commodious laboratory, a large hospital and a nurses' home at Omaha. There is always a large number of students seeking admittance.

In a resolution passed when his resignation was accepted, the board of regents states that they "are proud of the development of medical education under his leadership and consider the university fortunate for having the benefit of his service during the relatively long period of years during which he has been not only the presiding officer but the guiding spirit of this important college."

Such men are produced at Nebraska.

SUPPLYING THE WORLD WITH PORK.

One more article for which the world now looks to the United States is pork. The United States now has more swine than China, and with the exception of that country, has more than any half dozen other nations put together.

This leadership in the pork industry has come about, along with other interesting events, as the result of the late war. Before 1914, China led America in the number of its swine by seventeen million but the ratio has now been reversed and America has sixty-eight million while the oriental country has but forty-five million. Brazil has but eighteen million, and Germany only seventeen million.

America's supply has shown a marked increase during the last few years, while that in other quarters of the globe has fallen off. In Germany, France and other countries that actively participated in the war, this decrease has been especially marked. The meat consumption in the old countries is higher than in most other sections. The drop in number in Germany was three million during the war, while in France the decrease was but a million less.

The whole world's supply of pork has been materially decreased since the war, as there are now but 222 million porkers alive, while in 1913 there were 259. Practically all of the world looks to the United States for its supply of pork products and our exports of such goods have exceeded a billion dollars in the ten years since the beginning of the war, ranging from $117,000,000 in 1913 to $443,000,000 in 1923, and $210,000,000 for 1914.

More Truth Than Poetry

There are so many paths that wind
By easy stages down to sin,
It's such an easy thing to find
Gay haunts where crime and vice begin,
That one may marvel every day
To see among the young, and old,
How few there are who go astray,
How many choose the safer way,
Their names obscure, their worth untold.

There are so many pitfalls made
For those who blindly rush along,
So many false fronts are displayed
Where nothing's right and all is wrong,
That wonder comes to him who sees
How many men move straight ahead,
Unswerved by sugared sophistries,
And deaf to all the spacious pleas
By which the thoughtless are misled.

The righteous course is made so hard,
Its resting places are so rare,
And men so seldom win regard
For faithful, silent service there,
That one may justly wonder why
So many men keep bravely on,
With hopes that are foredoomed to die,
And having courage still to try
When failure comes with every dawn.

So many ways there are that lead
To that which fools may think success,
Their prizes are so rich whom greed
Induces to be pitiless,
That one who sees must find it plain
That men grow God-like, since so few
Depart from righteous ways for gain,
And since so many can refrain
From follies that the weak pursue.

High Blood Pressure.

Blood pressure is dependent upon two big factors, namely, the force of the heart beat and the elasticity of the blood vessels over the whole body.

The reason the pressure in our water pipes is always high is because the pumping station is giving the same force at each stroke and the pipes that lead into our homes are incapable of any elasticity. Consequently, a high water pressure at all times.

The difference between our water pressure and our blood pressure is accounted for in that the blood vessels over the body are elastic and will stretch to allow the blood to pass through.

High blood pressure is inevitable when the walls of the arteries become crusted with a calcium deposit. The tubes or arteries through which the blood flows, become smaller due to the deposit, and the elasticity of the vessels diminishes. When the blood vessels become crusted and the heart's pumping force remains the same, the same amount of blood must pass through the smaller tubes, hence a rise in blood pressure.

Many people seem to think that high blood pressure is a sign of impending death. This is far from true. It does signify that physical or mental overwork should be eliminated, for the vessel walls may break under the strain.

Numbness or faintness in persons over 50 years of age are the usual warnings of too much strain on the heart arteries. In middle life there is a tendency for the walls of the arteries to become hardened due to the deposit of calcium salts from the blood. This change in the blood vessels is called "arterio sclerosis." Sometimes the vessels at the wrist feel like pipe stems due to this sclerosis.

The heart always bears the brunt of the high blood pressure. It enlarges itself to try and keep the same amount of room in the arterial system for the blood, that has been lessened by the hardening of the arteries over the whole body.

The vessels of the brain are among the first to be affected by the deposit of calcium. When these vessels break we have the "stroke" that you have all heard about.

The chief causes of high blood pressure are over eating, mental or physical overworking, chronic tobacco poisoning, alcoholism and acute infections.

Questions And Answers.

Questions on health topics may be addressed to Dr. Perry in care of this newspaper.

I. L.—During an appendicitis attack they froze my appendix. Am I ever likely to have another attack?

ANSWER—Yes. The "freezing" is simply for temporary relief. You'll never get rid of your attacks until you get rid of the appendix. The operation as performed these days is neither difficult nor dangerous.

Splitting the Tax.

To the Editor of The Lincoln Star: I read a great many papers containing opinions of men with reference to the proposed two cents tax on gas. Why not put one cent on the consumer and one cent on the filling station and see how the oil companies feel about it? The state can get the market price on gas and see that the one cent is charged to them. Why do you want to put the burden all on the consumer? You will have to collect from the filling station. Get something out of your oil station. Within your state, motor oil may be bought by the quart for twenty-five or thirty cents. Publish a full tank car price oils, and see the profit per gallon.

If You Need a Medicine You Should Have the Best

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it fulfils almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder ailments, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcel Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention this paper. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.—Advertisement.

Today's Beauty Help

If you are one of the many who try to make the most of your hair remember that it is not advisable to wash the hair with any cleanser made for all purposes, but always use some good shampoo. You can enjoy the very best by getting some Canthrox from your druggist, dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. Dandruff, excess oil, and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its luster and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.

Your druggist can supply you and the low cost—scarcely three cents a shampoo—is almost unbelievable.—Advertisement.

If you are one of the many who try to make the most of your hair, remember that it is not advisable to wash the hair with any cleanser made for all purposes, but always use some good shampoo. You can enjoy the very best by getting some Canthrox from your druggist, dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. Dandruff, excess oil, and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its luster and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.

Your druggist can supply you and the low cost—scarcely three cents a shampoo—is almost unbelievable. —Advertisement.

No Money Grabber

If you received every week a dozen or more letters like the ones below from people who have suffered torments from piles, wouldn't you feel happier than the man whose life is devoted to money grabbing?

"Gentlemen — I have suffered with a fistula for the past twenty years. During that time I have tried numerous remedies, all of which have failed.

"Two months ago I determined to give Peterson's Ointment a trial. The improvement was so decided after using one box, that I have continued, and on the completion of the fifth box am now entirely cured.

"This is written with the view of passing along the good word to other sufferers." Very truly yours, Chas. E. Caswell, 282 Third Street, Albany, N. Y. At all druggists, 35 cents.

Rheumatism

A Remarkable Home Treatment Given By One Who Had It.

In the year of 1893 I was attacked by Muscular and Sub-Acute Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who are thus afflicted know for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, but such relief as I obtained was only temporary. Finally, I found a treatment that cured me completely and such a pitiful condition has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted, even bedridden, some of them seventy to eighty years old, and the results were the same as in my own case.

I want every sufferer from any form of muscular and sub-acute (swelling at the joints) rheumatism, to try the great value of my improved "Home Treatment" for its remarkable healing power. Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address, and I will send it free to try. After you have used it, and it has proven itself to be that long-looked for means of getting rid of such forms of rheumatism, you may send the price of it, One Dollar, but understand I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer, when relief is thus offered you free. Don't delay. Write today.

Dolan, Much Sought Giant Coach, Out of Hiding

"COZY" SHOWS UP SUDDENLY IN PROBE OF GIANT BRIBE

Dolan Emerges From Hiding Place and Goes Before District Attorney In New York; Man Who Is Supposed to Be Drawing Pay to Keep Silence May Provide Solution of Baseball Mystery.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Albert "Cozy" Dolan, debarred coach of the New York Giants, suddenly appeared on the scene of the baseball scandal investigation today and went before Assistant District Attorney George Brothers for questioning.

Dolan, with Jimmy O'Connell, Giants' outfielder, was declared ineligible by Baseball Commissioner Landis, following O'Connell's attempt to bribe Heine Sand of the Philadelphia club "not to bear down" in a game with the Giants last September.

Dolan's suspension by Landis followed when he gave expression to a series of "I don't remember" replies to Landis' questions.

May Solve the Riddle.

Dolan's appearance here, without being granted immunity from prosecution, was a distinct step towards the solving of the riddle, according to Brothers.

Before going into conference with Dolan, Brothers denied the claim of O'Connell's attorney that Jimmy had been refused immunity.

"I haven't even answered the telegram of O'Connell's attorney, asking that immunity be granted," Brothers said. "I will do so some time today after conferring with District Attorney Banton."

Jimmie Demands Immunity.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—Jimmy O'Connell, the Giant outfielder, intends to spend many months in California's golden sunshine, his attorney, Joseph McInerney, announced here today.

"Jimmy O'Connell has been refused the immunity he demanded by the New York district attorney and therefore will not go east to testify in the probe of the alleged attempt to bribe Heine Sand, Phillie's infielder, said McInerney.

"Get Cozy Dolan to talk and then you can get all the higher-ups and all the boys in this affair.

"We don't blame Judge Landis. He did all he could in this investigation and was without authority to go further, but the district attorney can go further and make a real investigation.

"However, O'Connell has not the slightest intention of testifying unless a genuine investigation is assured and unless he is promised immunity."

McInerney said, in response to a question, that O'Connell has nothing new to tell. He said if the outfielder went to New York he would relate the same story he did in his "confession."

O'Connell was hiding at the home of relatives near here today. It was said he planned to return to Boyes Springs, where he was until the first of this week on an outing trip.

Michigan Is Thrown For Loss; Nebraska Gains In Off-Season "Plays" For Gridiron Coaches

BY NORMAN E. BROWN.

Recent dispatches concerning the appointment of new coaches at Wisconsin and Nebraska universities have done much to arouse the lethargy of the football fans.

Both moves are unusually interesting in their nature and may have considerable effect in the final results of the 1925 gridiron season.

The two appointments are that of George Little, assistant under "Hurry Up" Yost at Michigan, to [illegible]

ERNEST E. BEARG

Bearg, chief aide to Bob Zuppke of Illinois, to direct Nebraska.

The loss of Little by Michigan is drawing the major share of attention in the discussions of the moves. It is felt generally that the Ann Arbor institution has been thrown for a loss in the departure of Little.

Of course none but the Michigan athletic officials know the details of the case.

Little has been the active head of the team for two or three seasons. Yost has confined his activities mainly to policies and advisory duties.

On the other hand, Yost had become more than the football leader at Michigan before Little joined the Wolverine coaching staff from [illegible] university in 1920. Yost's fame of bygone days had made him a tradition. He had become part of the "color" at the Wolverine games. His advent on the field always is the signal for a round of cheering. He is part of the "spirit" of Michigan.

Little Assumes Burden.

Little early demonstrated his ability as a football coach. He took much of the weight off Yost's shoulders in short order.

Those who have followed the work of the team since he joined the coaching squad are frank in giving him much credit for the development of the eleven. However, to most folk, Yost was the coach at Michigan. Little is young—just thirty-five. He hopes to win a place for himself among the great coaches. It is but natural that he should seek a place under the sun. Michigan was faced with the necessity of clearing the path for Little or letting him go. And behind Yost, as has been said, there had been built traditions.

At Wisconsin Little will have complete charge. He will be able to carry out his own ideas unhampered. The results, good or bad, will be credited to him.

The appointment of Bearg as coach at Nebraska, after several out or possibilities had been weighed carefully, is a tribute, in a way, to the coaching ability of Bob Zuppke, coach at Illinois, that university which is riding on the high road of fame these days as a result of Zuppke's development of "Red" Grange and his powerful teams in general.

Bearg won football distinction at Washburn college and coached that team in 1918 and 1919. The following year he joined Zuppke's staff and was given due credit by Zuppke for his part in the success achieved by the grid teams of Illinois U.

He will carry many of Zuppke's ideas and methods to Nebraska with him. Nebraska has always ranked as one of the most formidable teams of the mid-west and Notre Dame's greatest rival for honors. The two elevens are the most talked of ones in the west outside the "Big Ten" elevens.

NURMI KIDDING YANKEE PUBLIC

Phenomenal Finn Hasn't Even Started to Run, So Joe Loomis Asserts.

Has Speed to Reel Off Mile In 4 Minutes If Given Real Competition.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29. — After watching Paavo Nurmi deposit his fifteenth indoor record in the athletic morgue, while winning the Wanamaker mile and a half last night, Joe Loomis, national champion of another day and age, delivered himself of the opinion that the Finn has merely kidded the great American public to date. Loomis thinks, that not unlike John Paul Jones, Admiral Perry or somebody who said he had just begun to fight, Paavo has not even begun to run.

The man who has made the records fall right and left in the path of his twinkling toes has only given eighty per cent of his best since coming to America, the former champion declared.

Mile In Four Minutes.

Nurmi, he says, can do a half mile in 1:49, the mile in 4 minutes, two miles in 9 minutes and so on at a corresponding speed up to ten miles.

"This talk of Nurmi's wonderful achievements is a joke," said Loomis, who has seen the great Finn in most of his races here. "Why, that man can take each and every one of the fifteen records he has made on our indoor tracks and break them all over again by as much as five seconds. The public seems to be dazzled by his performances but it has missed the vital fact that the man has been under wraps in every race."

Needs Real Competition.

Loomis added that he didn't consider Nurmi a limelight seeker and that, therefore, no one would really see him run until a new and almost equally gifted contender is developed. The present lot, he said, will not do at all; in fact ought to be given handicaps, Joie Ray included, in order to make the business interesting.

Six or seven years ago Ray would have made Nurmi step some and you would have seen records created that would make the present standards look sick," Loomis declared. "But Ray is not the runner he was, in spite of general opinion to the contrary. This idea, I think, has been fostered by the fact that Ray ran 4:14 for the mile against Nurmi. But it is a fallacy. Seven years ago Nurmi would have carried Ray along at least two seconds faster than he can do now.

Kidded Along, Yet Won.

"As it is, Nurmi's competition is such that he plays around during a race. In the special three-quarters on Tuesday night, he did everything a runner shouldn't do and yet he won, pulled up, in record time. I am not criticising his tactics, however, because I think he knew perfectly well that he didn't have to resort to strategy.

"Nurmi has a million dollar pair of legs and they tell me he is very intelligent. That is an unbeatable combination. If he really makes up his mind to run, no record will be safe from Ted Meredith's half-mile mark on up to ten miles."

Champion Meets Master.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29. — (A. P.)— Defeats rather than conquests featured the second night of the annual Millrose A. C. indoor meet, that of Ugo Frigerio, Olympic champion, by Willie Plant of New York standing out.

Paavo Nurmi, apparently unconquerable, accomplished the expected by establishing two world's records in a two and one-half mile event for the John Wanamaker cup, which was won for three successive times by Joie Ray of Chicago. Ray dropped out of the race last night after a few laps.

Breaks Fifteen Records.

Nurmi has gathered fifteen world's records since he came to America. Last night he outran marks set by Ray by reaching the mile and a quarter in 5.30 1-5 and the mile and a half in 6:39 2-5.

Plant, facing the other European invader, Frigerio, walked to what seemed an easy victory over a distance of three miles and 185 yards. Frigerio congratulated the victor by kissing him on both cheeks. Plant's time, 22:06 3-5, established an indoor record.

Some of the interest was taken out of this international contest when it was announced that George Goulding of Canada, former Olympic champion, had withdrawn from competition for all time.

Murchison Conquers Scholz.

Another upset came when Jackson Scholz, Olympic 200-meter champion, went down to defeat twice before Loren Murchison of the Newark A. C. in the 60-yard dash and the 300-yard special.

Georgetown university outdid its own record of 7:17 1-5 in the two-mile relay, making the distance in seven minutes 11 seconds.

Herb Meyer of the Newark A. C. and Charles H. Moore of Pennsylvania State college equalled the record for the 50-yard low hurdles at 6 1-6 seconds. Moore's time was made in a trial heat, but he lost to Meyer in the finals.

K. C. Blues Balk On Paying Bonus To Husker Star

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 29.—If Elbert Bloodgood will waive his demand for a bonus for signing, it is probable that the University of Nebraska football and baseball star will become a member of the Kansas City American association ball club tomorrow, George Muehlbach, president of the club, told International News Service today.

Bloodgood is on his way here for a conference with Muehlbach Friday morning.

The Cornhusker quarterback demands a bonus, which Muehlbach says the club will not give. They have offered Bloodgood what they consider an unusually good salary for a "rookie," Muehlbach said today.

The largest outpouring of basketball fans of the 1925 Cornhusker season is expected to jam the armory Saturday evening when Nebraska and Kansas cage quintets meet in what promises to be one of the most important games on the Nebraska home schedule.

The Jayhawkers have been all-victorious over Nebraska basketball teams in the past three years, but Cornhusker cagesters believe this is Nebraska's year to shake the jinx. A record compiled by Lawrence statisticians shows that the Jayhawkers and Cornhuskers have played forty-four basketball games, Kansas winning 25 and Nebraska 19.

Kansas Has Strong Team.

That Kansas, a team which in the past three years has won two Valley titles and tied for another, is represented by another strong aggregation this season is shown by the 31 to 17 victory over the K. C. A. C. five registered on the Kansas City court.

The Nebraska armory will handle a crowd of 2,200, according to athletic department officials, and the building is expected to be crowded to overflowing when the two teams meet Saturday evening.

Wesleyan Also Busy.

Coach "Ren" Dow's Nebraska Wesleyan quintet also is in line for a busy home program this weekend.

The Methodist cagesters are booked to collide with the strong evening and follow with a Saturday game with Doane college. Both contests are scheduled for the University Place court.

Dow's squad this week lost the services of Al Gembler, former Wesleyan football captain, track and basketball man. Gembler has been declared ineligible and has withdrawn from school.

Dolan, Much Sought Giant Coach, Out of Hiding

"COZY" SHOWS UP SUDDENLY IN PROBE OF GIANT BRIBE

Dolan Emerges From Hiding Place and Goes Before District Attorney In New York; Man Who Is Supposed to Be Drawing Pay to Keep Silence May Provide Solution of Baseball Mystery.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Albert "Cozy" Dolan, debarred coach of the New York Giants, suddenly appeared on the scene of the baseball scandal investigation today and went before Assistant District Attorney George Brothers for questioning.

Dolan, with Jimmy O'Connell, O'Connell, Giants' outfielder, was declared ineligible by Baseball Commissioner Landis, following O'Connell's attempt to bribe Heine Sand of the Philadelphia club "not to bear down" in a game with the Giants last September.

Dolan's suspension by Landis followed when he gave expression to a series of "I don't remember" replies to Landis' questions.

May Solve the Riddle.

Dolan's appearance here, without being granted immunity from ecution, was a distinct step towards the solving of the riddle, according to Brothers.

Before going into conference with Dolan, Brothers denied the claim of O'Connell's attorney that Jimmy had been refused immunity.

"I haven't even answered the telegram of O'Connell's attorney, asking that immunity be granted," Brothers said. "I will do so some time today after conferring with District Attorney Banton."

Jimmie Demands Immunity.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—Jimmy O'Connell, the Giant outfielder, intends to spend many months in California's golden sunshine, his attorney, Joseph McInerney, announced here today.

"Jimmy O'Connell has been refused the immunity he demanded by the New York district attorney and therefore will not go east to testify in the probe of the alleged attempt to bribe Heine Sand, Phillie's infielder, said McInerney.

"Get Cozy Dolan to talk and then you can get all the higher-ups and all the boys in this affair.

"We don't blame Judge Landis. He did all he could in this investigation and was without authority to go further, but the district attorney can go further and make a real investigation.

"However, O'Connell has not the slightest intention of testifying unless a genuine investigation is assured and unless he is promised immunity."

McInerney said, in response to a question, that O'Connell has nothing new to tell. He said if the outfielder went to New York he would relate the same story he did in his "confession."

O'Connell was hiding at the home of relatives near here today. It was said he planned to return to Boyes Springs, where he was until the first of this week on an outing trip.

Michigan Is Thrown For Loss; Nebraska Gains In Off-Season "Plays" For Gridiron Coaches

BY NORMAN E. BROWN.

Recent dispatches concerning the appointment of new coaches at Wisconsin and Nebraska universities have done much to arouse the lethargy of the football fans.

Both moves are unusually interesting in their nature and may have considerable effect in the final results of the 1925 gridiron season.

The two appointments are that of George Little, assistant under "Hurry Up" Yost at Michigan, to be coach of Wisconsin, and Ernest

ERNEST E BEARG

Bearg, chief aide to Bob Zuppke of Illinois, to direct Nebraska.

The loss of Little by Michigan is drawing the major share of attention in the discussions of the moves. It is felt generally that the Ann Arbor institution has been thrown for a loss in the departure of Little.

Of course none but the Michigan athletic officials know the details of the case.

Little has been the active head of the team for two or three seasons. Yost has confined his activities mainly to policies and advisory duties.

On the other hand, Yost had become more than the football leader at Michigan before Little joined the Wolverine coaching staff from Miami university in 1922. Yost's fame of bygone days had made him a tradition. He had become part of the "color" at the Wolverine games. His advent on the field always is the signal for a round of cheering. He is part of the "spirit" of Michigan.

Little Assumes Burden.

Little early demonstrated his ability as a football coach. He took much of the weight off Yost's shoulders in short order.

Those who have followed the work of the team since he joined the coaching squad are frank in giving him much credit for the development of the eleven. However, to most folk, Yost was the coach at Michigan. Little is young — just thirty-five. He hopes to win a place for himself among the great coaches. It is but natural that he should seek a place under the sun. Michigan was faced with the necessity of clearing the path for Little or letting him go. And behind Yost, as has been said, there had been built traditions.

At Wisconsin Little will have complete charge. He will be able to carry out his own ideas unhampered. The results, good or bad, will be credited to him.

The appointment of Bearg as coach at Nebraska, after several other possibilities had been weighed carefully, is a tribute, in a way, to the coaching ability of Bob Zuppke, coach at Illinois, that university which is riding on the high road of fame these days as a result of Zuppke's development of "Red" Grange and his powerful teams in general.

Bearg won football distinction at Washburn college and coached that team in 1918 and 1919. The following year he joined Zuppke's staff and was given due credit by Zuppke for his part in the success achieved by the grid teams of Illinois U.

He will carry many of Zuppke's ideas and methods to Nebraska with him. Nebraska has always ranked as one of the most formidable teams of the mid-west and Notre Dame's greatest rival for honors. The two elevens are the most talked of ones in the west outside the "Big Ten" elevens.

NURMI KIDDING YANKEE PUBLIC

Phenomenal Finn Hasn't Even Started to Run, So Joe Loomis Asserts.

Has Speed to Reel Off Mile In 4 Minutes If Given Real Competition.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29. — After watching Paavo Nurmi deposit his fifteenth indoor record in the athletic morgue, while winning the Wanamaker mile and a half last night, Joe Loomis, national champion of another day and age, delivered himself of the opinion that the Finn has merely kidded the great American public to date. Loomis thinks, that not unlike John Paul Jones, Admiral Perry or somebody who said he had just begun to fight, Paavo has not even begun to run.

The man who has made the records fall right and left in the path of his twinkling toes has only given eighty per cent of his best since coming to America, the former champion declared.

Mile In Four Minutes.

Nurmi, he says, can do a half mile in 1:49, the mile in 4 minutes, two miles in 9 minutes and so on at a corresponding speed up to ten miles.

"This talk of Nurmi's wonderful achievements is a joke," said Loomis, who has seen the great Finn in most of his races here. "Why, that man can take each and every one of the fifteen records he has made on our indoor tracks and break them all over again by as much as five seconds. The public seems to be dazzled by his performances but it has missed the vital fact that the man has been under wraps in every race."

Needs Real Competition.

Loomis added that he didn't consider Nurmi a limelight seeker and that, therefore, no one would really see him run until a new and almost equally gifted contender is developed. The present lot, he said, will not do at all; in fact ought to be given handicaps, Joie Ray included, in order to make the business interesting.

Six or seven years ago Ray would have made Nurmi step some and you would have seen records created that would make the present standards look sick," Loomis declared. "But Ray is not the runner he was, in spite of general opinion to the contrary. This idea, I think, has been fostered by the fact that Ray ran 4:14 for the mile against Nurmi. But it is a fallacy. Seven years ago Nurmi would have carried Ray along at least two seconds faster than he can do now.

Kidded Along, Yet Won.

"As it is, Nurmi's competition is such that he plays around during a race. In the special three-quarters on Tuesday night, he did everything a runner shouldn't do and yet he won, pulled up, in record time. I am not criticising his tactics, however, because I think he knew perfectly well that he didn't have to resort to strategy.

"Nurmi has a million dollar pair of legs and they tell me he is very intelligent. That is an unbeatable combination. If he really makes up his mind to run, no record will be safe from Ted Meredith's half-mile mark on up to ten miles."

Champion Meets Master.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29. — (A. P.)—Defeats rather than conquests featured the second night of the annual Millrose A. C., indoor meet, that of Ugo Frigerio, Olympic champion, by Willie Plant of New York standing out.

Paavo Nurmi, apparently unconquerable, accomplished the expected by establishing two world's records in a two and one-half mile event for the John Wanamaker cup, which was won for three successive times by Joie Ray of Chicago. Ray dropped out of the race last night after a few laps.

Breaks Fifteen Records.

Nurmi has gathered fifteen world's records since he came to America. Last night he outran marks set by Ray by reaching the mile and a quarter in 5:30 1-5 and the mile and a half in 6:39 2-5.

Plant, facing the other European invader, Frigerio, walked to what seemed an easy victory over a distance of three miles and 185 yards. Frigerio congratulated the victor by kissing him on both cheeks. Plant's time, 22:06 3-5, established an indoor record.

Some of the interest was taken out of this international contest when it was announced that George Goulding of Canada, former Olympic champion, had withdrawn from competition for all time.

Murchison Conquers Scholz.

Another upset came when Jackson Scholz, Olympic 200-meter champion, went down to defeat twice before Loren Murchison of the Newark A. C. in the 60-yard dash and the 300-yard special.

Georgetown university outdid its own record of 7:47 1-5 in the two-mile relay, making the distance in seven minutes 44 seconds.

Herb Meyer of the Newark A. C. and Charles H. Moore of Pennsylvania State college equalled the record for the 50-yard low hurdles at 6 1-6 seconds. Moore's time was made in a trial heat, but he lost to Meyer in the finals.

K. C. Blues Balk On Paying Bonus To Husker Star

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 29.—If Elbert Bloodgood will waive his demand for a bonus for signing, it is probable that the University of Nebraska football and baseball star will become a member of the Kansas City American association ball club tomorrow, George Muehlbach, president of the club, told International News Service today.

Bloodgood is on his way here for a conference with Muehlbach Friday morning.

The Cornhusker quarterback demands a bonus, which Muehlbach says the club will not give. They have offered Bloodgood what they consider an unusually good salary for a "rookie," Muehlbach said today.

The largest outpouring of basketball fans of the 1925 Cornhusker season is expected to jam the armory Saturday evening when Nebraska and Kansas cage quintets meet in what promises to be one of the most important games on the Nebraska home schedule.

The Jayhawkers have been all-victorious over Nebraska basketball teams in the past three years, but Cornhusker cagesters believe this is Nebraska's year to shake the jinx. A record compiled by Lawrence statisticians shows that the Jayhawkers and Cornhuskers have played forty-four basketball games, Kansas winning 25 and Nebraska 19.

Kansas Has Strong Team.

That Kansas, a team which in the past three years has won two Valley titles and tied for another, is represented by another strong aggregation this season is shown by the 41 to 17 victory over the K. C. A. C. five registered on the Kansas City court.

The Nebraska armory will handle a crowd of 2,200, according to athletic department officials, and the building is expected to be crowded to overflowing when the two teams meet Saturday evening.

Wesleyan Also Busy.

Coach "Ren" Dow's Nebraska Wesleyan quintet also is in line for a busy home program this weekend.

The Methodist cagesters are booked to collide with the strong Des Moines university five Friday evening and follow with a Saturday game with Doane college. Both contests are scheduled for the University Place court.

Dow's squad this week lost the services of Al Gembler, former Wesleyan football captain, track and basketball man. Gembler has been declared ineligible and has withdrawn from school.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the ... and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga.

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made.

Here's an easy way to save $2, and yet have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? Thousands of families the world over feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will soon earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready made for three times its cost.

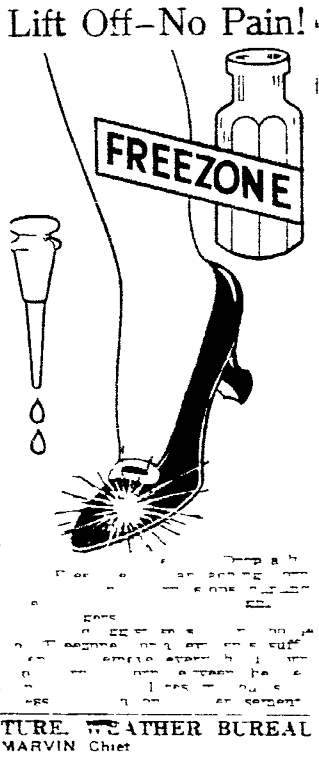

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosen a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Better Than Calomel

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant litte tabets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take it place.

Headaches, "dullnes" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "dogy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.—Advertisement.

NEW YORK Jan 29

[illegible] and motor stocks and widespread buying of the oil shares nearly all of which were lifted to new high levels featured today's active and irregular stock market. Many popular rails and industrials [illegible] from the [illegible] issue [illegible] approximated 1 [illegible] shares.

Oil shares staged another vigorous rally at the opening of today's stock market in response to the announcement of a substantial decrease in crude oil production. Pan American, Phillips, Union of California and other representative issues established the highest price since 1923. Changes in other stocks were narrow with United States steel moving up to 127¾.

The pace of trading quickened as bullish operations were extended to several high priced rails and specialties showing gains of 2¾ to 4 points. The Commercial Solvents issues crossed 179 to new high records. A dozen leading oil stocks sold at the highest levels in more than a year with an unusually brisk demand developing for Standard Oil of New Jersey, Pacific and Marland issues. Erie and Wabash shares were conspicuously active in the low priced rail group. Foreign exchanges opened steady.

Considerable irregularity developed in the morning trade as a result of extensive switching from a number of the popular industrials into the oil stocks the advance in which was given added impetus by another increase in gulf coast crude prices. Baldwin Radio Corporation, United States Cast Iron Pipe, Famous Players were offered freely at [illegible] sessions in [illegible] sales in reflection on [illegible] half [illegible] sales in reflection on [illegible] dividend and publication of the 1924 earning statements showing net profit of over $40 a share on the common stock. Sears Roebuck, Associated Drygoods moved up 1 to 3 points. The Commercial Solvents issues continued their sensational gains the A stock jumping 13½ points to 188 and the B stock climbing 9¾ to 30½.

The bulge in Mack Truck to 133 pulled up Nash 3, Maxwell A and Kelsey Wheel 4 points and White 3 points. Commercial Solvent A touched 190 and the B189 before profit taking forced them back to 184¾ and 180½ respectively. Atlantic Refining moved up 4¼ Can [illegible] Products 4 and American Can and DuPont two each. Various specialties however showed increased weakness including American Wool and Worthington Pump and Radio. The closing was irregular.

GRAIN MARKETS

CHICAGO Ill Jan 29

WHEAT—Influenced by a 10c smash in wheat prices at Winnipeg a result of heavy selling out on the part of holders the market here underwent a violent setback today in the early dealings. The feverish buying which has been the rule in Chicago of late continued however to be of such extraordinary volume that the extreme break here was limited to about 4 cents a bushel with quick rebounds of more than 2c in some cases. The fact that prior to the weakness at Winnipeg the Liverpool market today was unresponsive to yesterday's advance here counted as a decided handicap to proponents of higher prices in Chicago. Opening figures which ranged from 1c to 3¾c lower with May $2 0[illegible]@2 03⅜ and July $1 69@1 71 were followed by further losses in the deferred deliveries and then by rallies all around.

Subsequently upturns in corn and oats helped to strengthen wheat prices. Wheat closed unsettled at ¼ to 1¼c net lower May 2 03½ to 2 13¼ and July $1 71¼ to 1 71¾.

CORN—Corn and oats were governed chiefly by the action of wheat. Speculators though were aggressive buyers of corn on the downturns in price. After opening at ⅝@1½c lower May $1 31½ @1 3[illegible] the corn market fluctuated rapidly but kept near to the initial range.

Later corn and oats developed pronounced strength owing largely to indications of good export demand for oats and barley. Corn closed firm 1¾ to 3 cents net higher May $1 35⅜ to 1 35¼.

OATS—Oats started at a shade to 1c down May 59⅝@60¼c and later held relatively steady.

PROVISIONS—Higher quotations on hogs gave some firmness to provisions.

License To Wed Used Years Ago Now Registered

Jacob E Hart 33 of Salem Neb and Claudia Locke of Roca were married October 4, 1900 but their marriage license has just been returned to the office of the county judge.

Thursday morning an officious looking envelope with a picture of the Lancaster county courthouse taken over 25 years ago reproduced on the upper lefthand corner was opened by J L Pierce clerk of the county court. The license yellow with age was found inside.

The letter from Mrs J W Gates sister-in-law of Rev G W Selby the minister who united the couple was addressed to Mr Frank R Waters county judge in 1900. It came from Maywood Neb.

Mrs Gates stated that she had been designated to look over the papers and other effects of sister, Annie G Selby wife of Rev Selby both of whom are dead and that in doing so she found the license. Mrs Selby died in 1917 and Rev Selby some years prior.

Mrs Gates expressed the wish that no harm had been done in the oversight of her relatives. According to Mrs Pierce the only effect of the delay was that no official record of the couple's marriage had been made. The validity of the marriage had been possible. The validity of the marriage itself of course was not affected.

MERCURY RISE PROMISED EAST

(Associated Press)

NEW YORK Jan 28—Warmer weather was predicted today for the metropolitan district which with the Atlanta coast from Maine almost to Florida was in the grip of a cold wave of unusual intensity last night.

Yesterday was not only the coldest day of the year here but according to weather bureau statistics was the coldest January 28 on record. It was 1 degree below zero yesterday morning. The high mark of 14 above was reached at noon.

LOCAL DEALERS NEED PROTECTION

Municipal Officials Told Of Injury Being Done By Itinerants.

Go On Record As Favoring Public Ownership Of Utilities.

With the selection of Chadron as the convention city for 1926, the election of officers and an address on How Shall We Meet the Problem of the Itinerant Merchant by C W Watson secretary of the Nebraska Retail [illegible] League of Nebraska Municipalities Wednesday closed its sixth annual convention at Crete.

In the election W H Barnes of Falls City was re elected president Charles R Wilke deputy city attorney of Lincoln vice president and City Clerk Theo Berg of Lincoln secretary-treasurer. With the election of Mr Berg yesterday he starts his fourth term as secretary of the league. The members of the board of directors are W A Forsyth College View, F J Kobes Crete and Andrew Grosshans of Aurora. The first two were re-elected.

In his address on the itinerant merchant Mr Watson said that the problem is one which must be met by the legitimate merchants of every town and city in the state. It is also one which the municipal authorities should begin considering he said to the end that the merchants of their towns be given an opportunity to benefit from the sales of goods which now are being made through the mail and by itinerants.

As a result of the address attorneys attending the convention will draft ordinances for their home cities which will have the effect of protecting their merchants it was said.

Resolutions approved at the convention placed the delegates on record in favor of municipal ownership of utilities against super power plants against control of public utilities being placed in the hands of the state railway commission opposition to the removal of the present exemption from taxation of property devoted to municipal utilities or securities issued by them and against submitting a constitutional amendment removing the exemption.

Other clauses favor the payment to cities and towns of a portion of the money collected from the citizens for automobile licenses and urged the adoption of a model traffic ordinance framed by a committee of the league.

Bill Covering Secretaries' Pay Offered

Now that the old code system of government has been restored in Nebraska as it existed prior to 1923 the state will again be called upon to pay the necessary bills. The first item of this kind is an emergency appropriation of $14 033 to cover the salaries of the six code secretaries for the remainder of this biennium or from January 12 the date when they took office until June 30. Republican members of the house finance committee introduced a bill Thursday carrying that amount.

Further provision is made in Governor McMullen's budget for $60 000 to pay the code secretaries salaries during the next two years as part of the regular biennial expense.

Another bill offered by the finance committee appropriates $9 700 as an emergency fund to pay for moving the department still in the old capitol to their office quarters in the new one and for extra maintenance while both buildings are in use. This includes $5 000 for moving expenses $2 500 to transfer the state library $1 00 to pay three extra firemen and $1 000 for two extra janitors.

A bill by Mr Statts provided that all electric current for the capitol shall be furnished permanently by the penitentiary power plant.

Agree On Division Of Baker Property

A division of the estate left by Mr and Mrs Harry W Baker who were drowned in Colorado river last September has been effected with A J Baker and Jennie Baker parents of the drowned man receiving the drug store in Havelock and Mr and Mrs Paull parents of Mrs Baker receiving the residence property according to an agreement between these heirs which has been filed in County court.

The rest of the $30 000 estate including insurance and uncollected accounts is to be divided equally between the families.

High Record In Egg Laying During Winter

That scientific chicken raising pays is the conclusion of Mrs A J Schoonover 92[illegible] K street, Havelock who reports that her flock of 36 chickens has laid from 12 to 15 eggs a day since August and is now producing as high as 19 eggs each morning.

The chickens are full blooded Buff Orpingtons. They are kept in a large building 18x40 feet during cold days and at night are placed in a small scientifically built roost. The food is regulated according to rules laid down by specialists, and a point is made of keeping warm water within reach at all times.

Three Lincoln men were granted compensation awards for injuries received while performing their work in orders handed down Thursday morning by State Labor Commissioner Kennedy.

The largest award was granted A L Stednitz employed by the Independent Coal Co. He was given a total sum of $2 250 payable at the rate of $15 a week for 150 weeks.

Stednitz was injured by a lump of coal falling on his foot. The injury was not thought serious at first but later infection set in and it was necessary to amputate his foot.

FORTUNE WON BY WOMAN IN GRAIN TRADING

owns the Model Crabtree dairy farm at Lakebluff.

The board of trade Mrs Durand feels is the legitimate browsing place for farmers. She has proved to her own satisfaction she says that the board is open to the producer.

And when the frenzied wheat market went to the peak of $2 05 7-8 for May delivery yesterday with the public excitedly buying but big traders the few giants of the wheat pit remaining out of the market Mrs Durand stuck by her telephone.

She has confidence in the substance to the present market and believes wheat will go higher.

Why the price of all grain is too low she declared today as she admitted that she had profited highly in the market.

Others Are Warned

But she is not advising clerks stenographers women nor others who cannot afford to take an occasional loss to go into the grain market.

Mrs Durand admits that her operations have not always been profitable but she is able to laugh heartily over the losses which have fallen far behind the profits made in the present market currently reported to be near to or within six figures.

I think the farmer should buy grain futures the farmer knows what he is about she said.

I began trading in grain futures in the fall of 1920. You know what happened in grains and all food stuffs during the war. Well after four or five years of planting wheat I planted alfalfa to replenish the soil fertility. And alfalfa was high so I bought alfalfa and planted my wheat in alfalfa. Then I began buying wheat future.

Lost In 1923

I found 1921 a profitable year and 1922 was not so bad but 1923 was bad and I was behind. I could not break even that year and 1924 was an uncomfortable time for the grain operator until September when the signs began to show up that there was a world wheat shortage. In the Canadian Pacific country I saw the Canadian crop was very short and so I telephoned my brokers of what I had learned.

About that time a Winnipeg newspaper printed a story of a tremendous yield. From what I had seen that was untrue and I telegraphed my brokers not to sell although the market dropped a few cents. I telegraphed from Vancouver and from Seattle all the line telling my brokers not to sell.

My observations were those of a farmer fairly well informed on the situation.

Now I don't want anyone to think I am a gambler. I don't gamble. When I buy grain I buy for the same reasons I would buy a piece of real estate because I think it will prove profitable.

Drops At Winnipeg

WINNIPEG Man Jan 29—With a slump during the first few minutes of trading approaching the panicky stage wheat prices here declined 10 cents in the early trading today the may futures dropping to $2 10 after opening fairly steady around yesterday's close at $2 20.

London Watches Market

LONDON Jan [illegible] — The rising prices on the American wheat market are being watched with anxiety here the house wives awaiting an announcement of another increase in the costs of the family loaf. The price of flour has risen steadily for the past few weeks and yesterday another shilling was added to the price of a sack of standard grade in London. Outside the city the increase was two shillings.

It is said that there is not a country in Europe with the exception of Spain that is not scrambling to buy.

CHICAGO JURY IS TO DECIDE FATE SHORTLY

Many Overt Acts Charged

Thirty three overt acts were charged in the indictment on which the trial was based among them conspiracy to prevent free competitive bidding favoring of certain contractors in the announcement of contemplated projects and the passing on of confidential information relating to selection of sites.

The prosecution contended that Thompson and his partner the late J W Black of St Louis entered into a conspiracy with Mortimer and Forbes in 1922 to secure preferential treatment for the bids of the subsidiary and associated companies of Thompson and Black.

Mortimer who posed as a close friend of President Harding, it was said was taken into the enterprise because of his pretended influence with Forbes.

Forbes it was charged attempted to bring the Hurley-Mason Construction Co of Tacoma into the alleged corrupt ring. The plan then developed according to the government presentation was for the decision of the entire nationwide program of veterans hospital construction involving some $17 000 000.

Each Had Definite Part

According to the prosecution each man had a definite part to play in the execution of the conspiracy. Forbes was to favor the plot with official influence. Mortimer as confidential liaison agent and informal master of ceremonies in subterfuge negotiations between the bureau and the favored contractors. Between them Mortimer and Forbes were to divide equally 35 per cent of the contractor's profits.

The government charged that as a detail in the execution of the conspiracy Thompson and Black's Pontiac Construction Co of Detroit was awarded in 1922 a $160 000 contract for the Northampton (Massachusetts) hospital on a bid higher in money but lower in time than the lowest bid. Before other awards could be made the government contended the conspiracy was wrecked upon the rocks of greed among the conspirators.

Claim Charges Refuted

After calling numerous witnesses defense counsel claimed in their closing argument that every detailed charge of the prosecution had been refuted. They argued the entire case of the government was based upon the uncorroborated testimony of Mortimer a paid government informer and that every allegation was by that fact alone but beyond the pale of credibility.

A scathing attack upon Mortimer's character and reputation was a part of the defense effort. Mortimer was painted the arch conspirator bent upon vengeance upon Forbes. The entire litigation it was asserted was founded upon the venomous cool and bull story from a revengeful perjurer.

ATLANTA Ga—Two indictments were returned yesterday by a federal grand jury one charging that A E Sartain former warden of the federal penitentiary here, L J Fletcher former deputy warden and a third party not named conspired to accept and receive bribes.

WEATHER CONDITIONS

The snowstorm of yesterday and last night was general in Nebraska but did not extend far into adjoining states. It resulted from a small storm area which moved from eastern Colorado and which has disappeared this morning being replaced by a ridge of high pressure extending from Minnesota to Texas. Another center of low pressure appears on the north Pacific coast and extends down the eastern slope of the Rockies. Temperatures have risen throughout the eastern half of the country.

Former Governor Harding Here To Ask Waterway Appropriation

Appearing before the ways and means committee of the legislature for the Great Lakes-St Lawrence tidewater council of the Mississippi valley former Governor W L Harding of Iowa today asked the lawmakers of Nebraska to appropriate $5 000 for the biennium to be used in furthering the move to bring about the widening and deepening of the St Lawrence river for the accommodation of ocean going freight steamers.

In arguing for the appropriation Governor Harding said that the movement is supported by nineteen middlewestern states some of which have already appropriated as much as $20 000 to offset the influence which has been brought to bear by New York port interests to stifle the project.

Through deepening and widening the river the governor said the ports of Europe will be brought to the very door of the middlewestern grain farmer, the coal mines and the shippers of every commodity common to this section of the nation. There is at least 10 cents difference in the cost of freight sent through the lakes to the ocean and that sent by rail to the Atlantic or Gulf ports the governor said and the saving is in favor of the shipper especially the middlewest farmer.

Going Concern

The lake to ocean waterway is a going concern according to the former Iowa executive. Vessels ply its waters every day both ways between the ocean and lakes and ships pass through the canal locks at the rate of one every 8 minutes of every day in the week Sunday included. But he said ocean going steamers can not be accommodated as they should and that is what the council wants to bring about. More than [illegible]00 000 tons of freight was carried on the river during the past season.

To do this it will be necessary to counteract the opposition in the east to the point where the U S government and Canada will act together and do the work since the peculiar location of the river makes it an international problem.

The cost of the project the governor estimated will be [illegible] million dollars including the erection of power plants. He added that power would be a by product of the waterway when deepened and that returns from this alone would pay for the entire river development in fifty years.

The widening and deepening process would cover a stretch [illegible]2 miles in length. There would be one job embracing 3 miles and another [illegible] miles.

With Governor Adam McMullen Mr Harding was a guest at luncheon at noon of President John Bushnell of the Lincoln chamber of commerce at the chamber.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.

and motor specialties and widespread buying of the oil shares, nearly all of which were elevated to new high levels, featured today's active and irregular stock market. Many popular rails and industrials lost ground as speculators switched from those issue sto the oil and specialties. Sales approximated 1,900,000 shares.

Oil shares staged another vigorous rally at the opening of today's stock market in response to the announcement of a substantial decrease in crude oil production. Pan-American, Phillips, Union of California and other representative issues established the highest price since 1923. Changes in other stocks were narrow, with United States Steel moving up to 127¾.

The pace of trading quickened as bullish operations were extended to several high priced rails and specialties. Scoring gains of 2¾ to 4 points, the Commercial Solvents issues crossed 179 to new high records. A dozen leading oil stocks sold at the highest levels in more than a year, with an unusually brisk demand developing for Standard Oil of New Jersey, Pacific and Marland issues. Erie and Wabash shares were conspicuously active in the low priced rail group. Foreign exchanges opened steady.

Considerable irregularity developed in the morning trade as a result of extensive switching from a number of the popular industrials into the oil stocks, the advance in which was given added impetus by another increase in gulf Coast Crude prices. Baldwin, Radio Corporation, United States Cast Iron Pipe and Famous Players were offered freely at concessions in quoted values. S. S. Kresge soared 49 points to a record top at 510 on a half dozen sales in reflection of the 50 per cent stock dividend and the publication of the 1924 earning statements showing net profit of over $40 a share on the common stock. Sears Roebuck, Associated Drygoods moved up 1 to 3 points. The Commercial Solvents issues continued their sensational gains, the A stock jumping 13½ points to 188½ and the B stock climbing 9¾ to 86½.

The bulge in Mack Truck to 133 pulled up Nash 7, Maxwell A and Kelsey Wheel 4 points, and White 3 points, Commercial Solvents A touched 190 and the B189 before profit taking forced them back to 184¾ and 180½ respectively. Atlantic Refining moved up 4¼, Iron Products 4 and American Can and DuPont two each. Various specialties, however, showed increased weakness, including American Woolen, Worthington Pump and Radio.

The closing was irregular.

GRAIN MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 29.

WHEAT—Influenced by a 10c smash in wheat prices at Winnipeg, a result of heavy selling out on the part of holders, the market here underwent a violent setback today in the early dealings The feverish buying which has been the rule in Chicago of late, continued, however, to be of such extraordinary volume that the extreme break here was limited to about 4 cents a bushel, with quick rebounds of more than 2c in some cases The fact that prior to the weakness at Winnipeg, the Liverpool market today was unresponsive to yesterday's advance here counted as a decided handicap to proponents of higher prices in Chicago. Opening figures which ranged from 1c to 3¾c lower, with May $2.02@2.03¾ and July $1.69@1.71, were followed by further losses in the deferred deliveries and then by rallies all around.

Subsequently upturns in corn and oats helped to strengthen wheat prices. Wheat closed unsettled at ¼ to 2¼c net lower. May 2.03½ to 2.03¾ and July $1.71¼ to 1.71⅝.

CORN—Corn and oats were governed chiefly by the action of wheat. Speculators, though, were aggressive buyers of corn on the downturns in price. After opening at ⅝@1½c lower, May $1.31½@1.32¼, the corn market fluctuated rapidly, but kept near to the initial range.

Later, corn and oats developed pronounced strength owing largely to indications of good export demand for oats and barley. Corn closed firm, 1¾ to 3 cents net higher, May $1.35⅝ to 1.35⅞.

OATS—Oats started at a shade to 1c down, May 59⅝@60¼c, and later held relatively steady.

PROVISIONS—Higher quotations on hogs gave some firmness to provisions.

License To Wed Used Years Ago Now Registered

Jacob E. Hart, 33, of Salem, Neb., and Claudia Locke of Roca were married October 4, 1900, but their marriage license has just been returned to the office of the county judge.

Thursday morning an officious looking envelope with a picture of the Lancaster county courthouse taken over 25 years ago reproduced on the upper lefthand corner, was opened by J. L. Pierce, clerk of the county court. The license, yellow with age, was found inside.

The letter from Mrs. J. W. Gates, sister-in-law of Rev. G. W. Selby, the minister who united the couple was addressed to "Mr. Frank R. Waters," county judge in 1900. It came from Maywood, Neb.

Mrs. Gates stated that she had been designated to look over the papers and other effects of her sister, Annie G. Selby, wife of Rev. Selby, both of whom are dead; and that in doing so she found the license. Mrs. Selby died in 1917, and Rev. Selby some years prior.

Mrs. Gates expressed the wish that no harm had been done in the oversight of her relatives. According to Mrs. Pierce the only effect of the delay was that no official record of the couple's marriage had been made. The validity of the marriage had been possible. The validity of the marriage itself, of course, was not affected.

Municipal Officials Told Of Injury Being Done By Itinerants.

Go On Record As Favoring Public Ownership Of Utilities.

With the selection of Chadron as the convention city for 1926, the election of officers and an address on "How Shall We Meet the Promlem of the Itinerant Merchant" by C. W. Watson, secretary of the Nebraska Retailers, the League of Nebraska Municipalities Wednesday closed its sixth annual conention at Crete.

In the election W. H. Barnes of Fairbury was re-elected president; Charles R. Wilke, deputy city attorney of Lincoln, vice president and City Clerk Theo Berg of Lincoln secretary-treasurer. With the election of Mr. Berg yesterday he starts his fourth term as secretary of the league. The members of the board of directors are W. A. Forsyth, College View; F. J. Kobes, Crete; and Andrew Grosshans of Aurora. The first two were re-elected.

In his address on the itinerant merchant Mr. Watson said that the problem is one which must be met by the legitimate merchants of every town and city in the state. It is also one which the municipal authorities should begin considering, he said, to the end that the merchants of their towns be given an opportunity to benefit from the sales of goods which now are being made through the mail and by itinerants.

As a result of the address attorneys attending the convention will draft ordinances for their home cities which will have the effect of protecting their merchants, it was said.

Resolutions approved at the convention placed the delegates on record in favor of municipal ownership of utilities; against superpower plants; against control of public utilities being placed in the hands of the state railway commission; opposition to the removal of the present exemption from taxation of property devoted to municipal utilities, or securities issued by them; and against submitting a constitutional amendment removing the exemption.

Other clauses favor the payment to cities and towns of a portion of the money collected from the citizens for autmobile licenses, and urged the adoption of a model traffic ordinance framed by a committee of the league.

Bill Covering Secretaries' Pay Offered

Now that the old code system of government has been restored in Nebraska, is it existed prior to 1923, the state will again be called upon to pay the necessary bills. The first item of this kind is an emergency appropriation of $14,033 to cover the salaries of the six code secretaries for the remainder of this biennium, or from January 12, the date when they took office, until June 30. Republican members of the house finance committee introduced a bill Thursday carrying that amount.

Further provision is made in Governor McMullen's budget for $60,000 to pay the code secretaries' salaries during the next two years, as part of the regular biennial expense.

Another bill offered by the finance committee appropriates $9,700 as an emergency fund to pay for moving the department still in the old capitol to their office quarters in the new one, and for extra maintenance while both buildings are in use. This includes $5,000 for moving expenses, $2,500 to transfer the state library, $1,200 to pay three extra firemen, and $1,000 for wto extra janitors.

A bill by Mr. Statts provided that all electric current for the capitol shall be furnished permanently by the penitentiary power plant.

Agree On Division Of Baker Property

A division of the estate left by Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Baker, who were drowned in Colorado river last September, has been effected with A. J. Baker and Jennie Baker, parents of the drowned man receiving the drug store in Havelock and Mr. and Mrs. Paull, parents of Mrs. Baker receiving the residence property, according to an agreement between these heirs which has been filed in County court.

The rest of the $30,000 estate, including insurance and uncollected accounts, is to be divided equally between the families.

Former Governor Harding Here To Ask Waterway Appropriation

Appearing before the ways and means committee of the legislature for the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater council of the Mississippi valey, former Governor W. L. Harding of Iowa today asked the lawmakers of Nebraska to appropriate $5,000 for the biennium to be used in furthering the move to bring about the widening and deepening of the St. Lawrence river for the accommodation of ocean-going freight steamers.

In arguing for the appropriation Governor Harding said that the movement is supported by nineteen mdidlewestern state, some of which have already appropriated as much as $20,000 to offset the influence which has been brought to bear by New York port interests to stifle the project.

Through deepening and widening the river, the governor said, the ports of Europe will be brought to the verry door of the middlewestern grain farmer, the coal mines and the shippers of every commodity common to this section of the nation. There is at least 10 cents difference in the cost of freight sent through the lakes to the ocean and that sent by rail to the Atlantic or Gulf ports, the governor said, and the saving is in favor of the shipper, especially the middlewest farmer.

Going Concern.

The lake to ocean waterway is a going concern, according to the former Iowa executive. Vessels ply its waters every day both ways between the ocean and lakes, and ships pass through the canal locks at the rate of one everry 28 minutes of everry day in the week, Sunday included. "But," he said, "ocean going steamers cannot be accommodated as they should, and that is what the council wants to bring about. More than 5,500,000 tons of fgreight was carried on the river during the past season.

"To do this it will be necessary to counteract the opposition in the east to the point where the U. S. government and Canada will get together and do the work, since the peculiar location of the river makes it an international problem."

The cost of the project, the governor estimated with be 252 million dollars, including the erection of power plants. He added that power would be a bi-product of the waterway when deepened, and that returns from this alone would pay for the entire river development in fifty years.

The widening and deepening process would cover a stretch 52 miles in length. There would be one job embracing 33 miles and andother 25 miles.

High Record In Egg Laying During Winter

That scientific chicken raising pays is the conclusion of Mrs. A. J. Schoonover, 922 K street, Havelock, who reports that her flock of 36 chickens has laid from 12 to 15 eggs a day since August and is now producing as high as 19 eggs each morning.

The chickens are full blooded Buff Orpingtons. They are kept in a large building, 18x40 feet, during cold days, and at night are placed in a small, scientifically built roost. The food is regulated according to rules laid down by specialists, and a point is made of keeping warm water within reach at all times.

$2,250 AWARD FOR STEDNITZ

Compensation to Lincoln Man Who Lost Foot As Result Of Accident.

Three Lincoln men were granted compensation awards for injuries received while performing their work, in orders handed down Thursday morning by State Labor Commissioner Kennedy.

The largest award was granted A. L. Stednitz, employed by the Independent Coal Co. He was given a total sum of $2,250, payable at the rate of $15 a week for 150 weeks.

Stednitz was injured by a lump of coal falling on his foot. The injury was not thought serious at first but later infection set in and it was necessary to amputate his foot.

James M. Carper was granted a weekly compensation of $15 to run for 112½ weeks. Carper was injured in an automobile accident while in the employ of the state trade and commerce department. The injury resulted in a fifty per cent loss of the use of his right arm. Carper is 65 years old.

Frank Sievers, who lost the sight of one eye as the result of a small piece of steel flying into it while he was employed at the Northwestern Iron and Metal works, February 13, 1924, was granted compensation in the amount of $1,300 payable in 125 weekly payments of $12.

owns the Model Crabtree dairy farm at Lakebluff.

The board of trade, Mrs. Durand feels, is the legitimate browsing place for farmers. She has proved to her own satisfaction, she says, that the board is open to the producer.

And when the frenzied wheat market went to the peak of $2.05 7-8 for May delivery yesterday, with the public excitedly buying, but big traders, the few giants of the wheat pit remaining out of the market, Mrs. Durand stuck by her telephone.

She has confidence in the substance to the present market and believes wheat will go higher.

"Why the price of all grain is too low," she declared today, as she admitted that she had profited highly in the market.

Others Are Warned.

But she is not advising clerks, stenographers, women nor others who cannot afford to take an occasional loss to go into the grain market.

Mrs. Durand admits that her operations have not always been profitable, but she is able to laugh heartily over the losses which have fallen far behind the profits made in the present market, currently reported to be near to or within six figures.

"I think the farmer should buy grain futures; the farmer knows what he is about," she said.

"I began trading in grain futures in the fall of 1920. You know what happened in grains and all foodstuffs during the war. Well, after four or five years of planting wheat, I planted alfalfa to replenish the soil fertility. And alfalfa was high so I bought alfalfa and planted my wheat in alfalfa Then I began buying wheat futures.

Lost In 1923.

"I found 1921 a profitable year and 1922 was not so bad, but 1923 was bad and I was behind. I could not break even that year, and 1924 was an uncomfortable time for the grain operator until September, when the signs began to show up that there was a world wheat shortage. In the Canadian Pacific country I saw the Canadian crop was very short and so I telephoned my brokers of what I had learned.

"About that time a Winnipeg newspaper printed a story of a tremendous yield. From what I had seen, that was untrue and I telegraphed my brokers not to sell although the market dropped a few cents. I telegraphed from Vancouver and from Seattle, all the time telling my brokers not to sell.

"My observations were those of a farmer fairly well informed on the situation.

"Now I don't want anyone to think I am a gambler. I don't gamble. When I buy grain I buy for the same reasons I would buy a piece of real estate, because I think it will prove profitable."

Drops At Winnipeg.

WINNIPEG, Man., Jan. 29.—With a slump during the first few minutes of trading approaching the panicky stage, wheat prices here declined 10 cents in the early trading today, the may futures dropping to $2.10, after opening fairly steady around yesterday's close at $2.20.

London Watches Market.

LONDON, Jan. 29. — The rising prices on the American wheat market are being watched with anxiety here, the house wives awaiting announcement of another increase in the costs of the family loaf. The price of flour has risen steadily for the past few weeks and yesterday another shilling was added to the price of a sack of standard grade in London. Outside the city the increase was two shillings.

It is said that there is not a country in Europe, with the exception of Spain, that is not scrambling to buy.

CHICAGO JURY IS TO DECIDE FATE SHORTLY

Many Overt Acts Charged.

Thirty-three overt acts were charged in the indictment on which the trial was based, among them conspiracy to prevent free competitive bidding, favoring of certain contractors in the announcement of contemplated projects and the passing on of confidential information relating to selection of sites.

The prosecution contended that Thompson and his partner, the late J. W. Black, of St. Louis, entered into a conspiracy with Mortimer and Forbes in 1922 to secure preferential treatment for the bids of the subsidiary and associated companies of Thompson and Black.

Mortimer, who posed as a close friend of President Harding, it was said, was taken into the enterprise because of his pretended influence with Forbes.

Forbes, it was charged, attempted to bring the Hurley-Mason Construction Co., of Tacoma, into the alleged corrupt ring. The plan then developed, according to the government presentation, was for the decision of the entire nationwide program of veterans hospital construction involving some $17,000,600.

Each Had Definite Part.

According to the prosecution, each man had a definite part to play in the execution of the conspiracy. Forbes was to favor the plot with official influence. Mortimer as confidential liaison agent and informal master of ceremonies in subterfuge negotiations between the bureau and the favored contractors. Between them Mortimer and Forbes were to divide equally 35 per cent of the contractor's profits.

The government charged that as a detail in the execution of the conspiracy, Thompson and Black's Pontiac Construction Co., of Detroit was awarded in 1922 to $160,000 contract for the Northampton, (Massachusetts) hospital on a bid higher in money but lower in time than the lowest bid. Before other awards could be made, the government contended, the conspiracy was "wrecked upon the rocks of greed among the conspirators."

Claim Charges Refuted.

After calling numerous witnesses, defense counsel claimed in their closing argument that every detailed charge of the prosecution had been refuted. They argued the entire case of the government was based upon the uncorroborated testimony of Mortimer, a paid government informer, and that every allegation was by that fact alone but beyond the pale of credibility.

A scathing attack upon Mortimer's character and reputation was a part of the defense effort. Mortimer was painted the arch conspirator, bent upon vengeance upon Forbes. The entire litigation, it was asserted, was founded upon "a venomous cock and bull story from a revengeful perjurer."

ATLANTA, Ga.—Two indictments were returned yesterday by a federal grand jury, one charging that A. E. Sartain, former warden of the federal penitentiary here, L. J. Fletcher, former deputy warden, and a third party not named, conspired to accept and receive bribes.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The snowstorm of yesterday and last night was general in Nebraska but did not extend far into adjoining states. It resulted from a small storm area which moved from eastern Colorado, and which has disappeared this morning, being replaced by a ridge of high pressure, extending from Minnesota to Texas. Another center of low pressure appears on the north Pacific coast and extends down the eastern slope of the Rockies. Temperatures have risen throughout the eastern half of the country.

HEARTS of TWO

BY VIRGINIA TERHUNE VAN DE WATER
AUTHOR OF NATIONWIDE REPUTATION AND WRITER OF POPULAR NOVELS

CHAPTER CVI

Lois Horton and Harold Summer left the sick room together but Mrs Fisher motioned for the minister to linger for an instant while the girl went on downstairs

"How do you think he looks?" the nurse asked with a nod toward the invalid

"Much thinner" was the reply "I did not tell his daughter so for it is hard enough for her as it is Her sister should be here"

Mrs Fisher started to speak then shut her lips firmly She had been a nurse long enough to know that it is well to keep silence—even regarding one's convictions

A moment later the clergyman running lightly down the stairs had joined his hostess in the library She looked at him keenly

"What did Mrs Fisher want to" tioned 'She does not consider father any worse, does she?'"

The man smiled compassionately "'Poor child'" he murmured, "how anxious you are No she did not mention any of her ideas with regard to her patient She only asked me how I thought he looked"

"And what did you say"

"That he seems thinner than when I saw him last"

"You do not think that means any serious change, do you" Lois insisted "I mean—wouldn't anyone who took as little nourishment as he has taken since the beginning of his illness and lying still for weeks and weeks get thin?"

"Probably" Harold Summer assented "Stop worrying"

She smiled wanly "I cannot stop worrying but I can stop inflicting my worries upon you"

"You do not inflict them upon me" he declared Then with a glance at his watch "It is time I was starting for my evening service There are several things I want to talk over with you Suppose I stop in after church for a while"

"I would love it!" was the eager reply "I am going to church myself"

"Why not rest this evening?" he demurred "You see," with a fond smile "I can afford to be unselfish, for I shall see you later, anyway Besides— I would not have the pleasure of your company if you were to go—for I think that unless we want people to suspect our feelings for each other it would be better for us not to be seen going to and from church together"

She flushed "I suppose not" she agreed "And I am tired this evening So I will stay at home and rest until your return"

She may have rested physically—but her mind was busy How careful Harold was about appearances She congratulated herself for the dozenth time that he did not know the nature of Marian's position in New York It might—yes it might actually make a change in his feelings for her Lois Lois had enlarged on the respectability of Marian's present surroundings informing her lover that her sister's comfortable rooms had been secured for her through the Y W C A

These thoughts were still uppermost when soon after nine o'clock the Rev Harold Summer returned Lois heard his step on the path and opened the door before he had time to ring

Seated near her in the library, he began abruptly on the subject on which she had been musing

"I told you my dear" he said "that I wanted to have a little talk with you if you will let me It is about your sister What you have said this evening only confirms me in the conviction that someone ought to awaken her to a sense of responsibility to you—as well as our father Has she told you what her salary is?"

The girl shook her head Again she felt a sinking of her heart She must in some way prevent any further questioning as to Marian's exact circumstances If Harold were to suspect that the sister of his future wife was once more dancing in a cabaret! Until the engagement was at least, an assured and announced fact he must be kept in ignorance This was another reason why Marian must not come home yet

"I have not asked her what her salary is" she said now trying to quiet the fluttering of her heart "Please dear Harold let me bear my burden alone! She sends me such money as she can spare Yet as I have told you among the people she is with—people in fashionable circles—she must dress well And I am getting on all right"

"Nevertheless she ought to come home and see how things are," the man declared obstinately "It is not fair that you should bear all this burden"

The wide blue eyes were lifted to his gaze

"When I can talk of it to you I can bear it" the girl said "If it were not for you——"

She stopped suddenly her face blanching There was the sound of hurried footsteps on the stairs A the girl sprang up the living-room door was thrown open and Mrs Fisher stood on the threshold

"Miss Lois!" she gasped—"Telephone for Dr Hazen—then come upstairs as soon as you can! Only don't show any excitement when you see your father For he is conscious—and has asked for your sister He spoke her name plainly twice"

A Hint for Beginners

The cross-word puzzle diagram is merely a means of concealing words which are synonymous to those listed and which will interlock perfectly and so read equally well crosswise or downwards. Always look for the number of the synonym on the diagram. If horizontal, you must find a word to fit between that number and the first shaded stop to the right; if vertical, you must fit your word between the number and the first shaded stop below.

HEARTS of TWO

BY VIRGINIA TERHUNE VAN DE WATER

CHAPTER CVI.

Lois Horton and Harold Summer left the sick-room together, but Mrs. Fisher motioned for the minister to linger for an instant while the girl went on downstairs.

"How do you think he looks?" the nurse asked with a nod toward the invalid.

"Much thinner," was the reply. I did not tell his daughter so, for it is hard enough for her as it is. Her sister should be here."

Mrs. Fisher started to speak, then shut her lips firmly. She had been a nurse long enough to know that it is well to keep silence—even regarding one's convictions.

A moment later the clergyman, running lightly down the stairs, had joined his hostess in the library. She looked at him keenly.

"What did Mrs. Fisher want to speak to you about?" she questioned. "She does not consider father any worse, does she?"

The man smiled compassionately. "Poor child!" he murmured, "how anxious you are! No, she did not mention any of her ideas with regard to her patient. She only asked me how I thought he looked."

"And what did you say?"

"That he seems thinner than when I saw him last."

"You do not think that means any serious change, do you?" Lois insisted. "I mean—wouldn't anyone who took as little nourishment as he has taken since the beginning of his illness, and lying still for weeks and weeks, get thin?"

"Probably," Harold Summer assented. "Stop worrying!"

She smiled wanly. "I cannot stop worrying. But I can stop inflicting my worries upon you."

"You do not inflict them upon me," he declared. Then, with a glance at his watch, "It is time I was starting for my evening service. I am sorry—for there are several things I want to talk over with you. Suppose I stop in after church for a while?"

"I would love it!" was the eager reply. "I am going to church myself."

"Why not rest this evening?" he demurred. "You see," with a fond smile, "I can afford to be unselfish, for I shall see you later, anyway. Besides— I would not have the pleasure of your company if you were to go—for I think that, unless we want people to suspect our feelings for each other, it would be better for us not to be seen going to and from church together."

She flushed. "I suppose not," she agreed. "And I am tired this evening. So I will stay at home and rest until your return."

She may have rested physically—but her mind was busy. How careful Harold was about appearances! She congratulated herself for the dozenth time that he did not know the nature of Marian's position in New York. It might—yes, it might actually make a change in his feelings for her, Lois! Lois had enlarged on the respectability of Marian's present surroundings, informing her lover that her sister's "comfortable rooms had been secured for her through the Y. W. C. A."

These thoughts were still uppermost when, soon after nine o'clock, the Rev. Harold Sumner returned. Lois heard his step on the path and opened the door before he had time to ring.

Seated near her in the library, he began abruptly on the subject on which she had been musing.

"I told you, my dear," he said, "that I wanted to have a little talk with you if you will let me. It is about your sister. What you have said this evening only confirms me in the conviction that someone ought to awaken her to a sense of responsibility to you—as well as your father. Has she told you what her salary is?"

The girl shook her head. Again she felt a sinking of her heart. She must in some way prevent any further questioning as to Marian's exact circumstances. If Harold were to suspect that the sister of his future wife was once more dancing in a cabaret! Until the engagement was, at least, an assured and announced fact, he must be kept in ignorance. This was another reason why Marian must not come home yet.

"I have not asked her what her salary is," she said now, trying to quiet the fluttering of her heart. "Please, dear Harold, let me bear my burden alone! She sends me such money as she can spare. Yet, as I have told you, among the people she is with—people in fashionable circles—she must dress well. And I am getting on all right."

"Nevertheless she ought to come home and see how things are," the man declared obstinately. "It is not fair that you should bear all this burden."

The wide blue eyes were lifted to his gaze.

"When I can talk of it to you, I can bear it," the girl said. "If it were not for you——"

She stopped suddenly, her face blanching. There was the sound of hurried footsteps on the stairs. As the girl sprang up, the living-room door was thrown open and Mrs. Fisher stood on the threshold.

"Miss Lois!" she gasped—"Telephone for Dr. Hazen—then come upstairs as soon as you can! Only don't show any excitement when you see your father. For he is conscious—and has asked for your sister. He spoke her name plainly twice!"

A Hint for Beginners

The cross-word puzzle diagram is merely a means of concealing words which are synonymous to those listed and which will interlock perfectly and so read equally well crosswise or downwards. Always look for the number of the synonym on the diagram. If horizontal, you must find a word to fit between that number and the first shaded stop to the right; if vertical, you must fit your word between the number and the first shaded stop below.

ROBBER SUSPECT SHOT TO DEATH

Blinds Officer With Ammonia and Killed By Unknown Person.

(Associated Press.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Jan. 29.—Ariel Eggers, alleged hijacker, who was being held here with his brother, Milo, for Vancouver, B. C., authorities, on a fugitive warrant, was shot and killed in a corridor of the federal building here Wednesday after he had thrown ammonia in the face of Deputy United States Marshall Jack Donnelley, and attempted to escape.

Who shot and killed Eggers is a mystery. At first it was reported that Donnelley shot him. This Donnelley denied. It was reported that an accomplice of Eggers' shot him.

Donnelley was removed after the shooting to an emergency hospital and later taken to his home where physicians said he would recover in a few days, and that although he could not see, he would regain his sight.

Telling How and When To Use Trustworthy Products and Reproducing Extracts of Patrons Letters Relating to Cadomene, Balmwort, Sulpherb, Arbolene, Su-thol, Mentho-Laxene, Minyol, Hypo-Nuclane, Vilane, Etc.

Mrs. C. T. B. asks: "My family of five seem to be always having a cold or prolonged cough throughout the fall and winter. First one and then another is attacked. Can you offer some help?"

Answer: This being the season when thousands are seeking relief from distressing colds and stubborn coughs due to same, my advice to all, based on years of experience, is to act quickly as soon as a "cold" is apparent.

To check a cold in its early stage, obtain triple strength Mentho-Laxene Salve. Use it as per directions promptly and regularly. When this is done the cold is generally banished before it gets serious. If the system is run down take Cadomene tablets as a tonic. For obstinate, distressing cough, spasmodic croup, and for whooping cough convalesents, there can be found nothing better than essence Mentho-Laxene, to be used as per directions with each bottle.

Mr. J. R. asks: "I am 37 years old and am very nervous. Suffer a great deal with pain in head and back of neck. Have no ambition and am always tired and depressed. Am pale, thin and don't sleep well."

Answer: I suggest that Cadomene tablets be taken to aid improvement of the quality and quantity of the blood and thus restore the normal functioning of the body organs and nervous system.

R. J. D. asks: "I am 21 and under weight for my age and height. Am troubled with costiveness and pimples and boils on my face and body. Would like to know what to take."

Answer: To quickly aid the bowels and rid the blood of the toxins causing pimples and boils, take Sulpherb tablets as a laxative blood medicine. To increase weight try Hypo-Nuclane tablets as a nutritional tonic. They may be taken at same time.

H. A. asks: "I have bladder and kidney trouble, with a burning, stinging sensation after voiding. I have to get up from four to five times at night, and often have dull aches and stiffness of muscles and joints. Can this condition be helped?"

Answer: This condition is sometimes due to constipation in which case take Sulpherb tablets as a bowel and kidney regulator. If due to functional inactivity of the kidneys, take Balmwort tablets as a diuretic-tonic and neutralizing agent to tone up the kidneys and overcome the bladder irritation.

Answer to Mrs. E. R.: The pains of neuritis may sometimes be relieved by lightly annointing with triple strength Mentho-Laxene Salve. Su-thol tablets give relief in some cases of rheumatic character.

T. Y. W. asks: "In the past year I have gotten too fat and also I suffer with embarrassment, because I have to have all my clothing made to order, as ready-made things will not fit. Can I reduce?"

Answer: I suggest that you obtain Arbolene tablets, which are generally very effective in reducing superfluous fat.

Mrs. E. H. asks: "What ever I eat lays on my stomach and ferments, forms gas and presses on my heart, and makes me miserable. I wish you would tell me what to do?"

Answer: If constipated take Casca Royal Pills as a pleasant laxative. Also begin taking Triopeptine tablets which tend to aid and overcome functional distress of the stomach and bowels.

W. E. B. asks: "My hair is falling, have itching scalp and bad case of dandruff. Does Minyol stain the hair?"
